Fire station requests pricey security system

Village board wants justification

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Village Board did not automatically approve a request by the Public Safety Director, Lee Shannon, for the lease of a $51,000 security "access" system for the fire station at the village board meeting. Even members of the Public Safety Committee seemed surprised by the lock's price tag.

At the moment, the fire station has a digital key padlock system that has fallen into disrepair. Shannon told the board the parts to repair the system are no longer available. The proposed system would include computerized key tags, security cameras, and computer printouts which would track the names of people who enter and leave the station.

"We liked what Security Link has proposed for us," said Shannon. "The system will keep a record of who is in the building and when."

The unit would be leased from Security Link for a start-up cost of $17,833 and a yearly payment of $8,346 for the next four years. The whole system would be an operational lease which could then be renewed at the end of the five year period. The total price tag for the lease is $51,217.

Shannon told the board the key pad system is not secure and the codes are easily broken.

"With the current system, we changed the codes," explained Shannon. "Someone was able to get in the next day when he broke the code. He wasn't even at the meeting when the code was changed."

The board, however, seemed unconvinced the fire station was in need of such extensive security. Shannon refused to cite specific examples of security problems at the station but, when pushed, admitted there is a problem.

When asked directly if there had been some vandalism at the station, Shannon responded, "I choose not to talk about it in public. I would be happy to discuss it in

Ice fishing hits fever pitch during holiday

by ALEC JUNGE
Lakeland Newspapers

Ice fishermen are hitting the area lakes in droves and the fish are taking the bait.

"A lot of stripers (bass) some catfish and northern pike are being taken," according to Greg Dickson of Triangle Sports. "They're biting everywhere in the surrounding area, in the Chain, Loon, Deep and Cedar, and Southern Wisconsin lakes like Camp."

Fishermen took part in the warm holiday weekend in search of fish. "There were thousands of people on area lakes," Dickson said.

Anglers seemed to have good luck for the weekend. "There were a lot of fish caught," Dickson said.

If interested in ice fishing remember to have a valid fishing license. Some lakes are restricted to residents only. Deep and Cedar Lakes in Lake Villa are open to residents and their guests only. In Lindenhurst, Lake Waterford is open to residents only. The Chain is open to anyone with a license.

Up in the Northern end of the Chain O' Lakes, anglers are pulling up stripers, perch, and a few crappies out of Lake Marie. According to Charlotte Pecoraro of Frank and Char's Resort, the ice fishing is better than last year.

"A lot of people were worried about the kill-off during the floods last year," said Char. "But, we are catching some pretty big stripers out here."

Sportsmen are having great success using wigglers, which are May Fly larva, and spikes, which are a type of maggot. Char reports that a good sized muskie was caught on Channel Lake this weekend as well as a Northern Pike.

All in all, the fishing seems to be pretty good. Char's son caught a 5-gallon bucket full of stripers on the weekend. She speculates the fishing may even be better this winter than in a typical summer because the lack of boat traffic. Best of all, she reports the "Fish are really tasty."

Emmons referendum to appear in March

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Board of Education for Emmons School adopted a resolution calling for a building addition referendum to be placed on the March ballot. Emmons School officials had a number of planned meetings to get the building referendum drive off the ground.

At the preliminary meeting, which included school board members, Superintendent Matt Tabor, and many parents, enrollment projections were presented to illustrate the need for 10 to 14 more classrooms.

Emmons School is one of the two single school independent districts in the Antioch area. The district has experienced a large increase in its enrollment this year. According to Tabor, the increases are a result of homeowner turn-over of existing homes and new homeowners in the Heron Harbor and Fairway Estates subdivisions.

The estimated cost for the project is $1.5 million, however, voters will be asked to approve $1.4 million to be financed over a 15-year period. Impact fees of $110,000 collected over the past four years will be used to offset the costs.

The campaign to inform the public of the details of the referendum will begin on Tuesday, Jan. 18, at 7 p.m. at the school. The public is invited to attend. Officials from voter registration will be on hand for residents who need this service.

Emmons School seems to have a combination of involved parents and academic achievers. Parents, several months ago, gathered together to rebuild the playground at the school. The school also received excellent marks from the state when ranked in the state school report cards. Emmons eighth-graders scores were up in all categories from last year as well as above the state averages.

'Kiddie crimes' affect southwestern village

LAKE ZURICH—Village police are trying to solve a string of burglaries which hit six homes within a four-day span late last month. Several of the burglaries were considered "kiddie crimes" by Police Chief Frederick J. Clauser for the items taken, mostly loose cash, and those left behind, including jewelry, cameras and firearms. Those home were entered through rear entrances, such as patio doors or windows, and the master bedrooms were ransacked.

Non-competitive bicycle ramble set for June run

LAKE COUNTY—Applications are now being accepted for the 13th annual Bicycle Club of Lake County non-competitive Ramble, taking place June 12 with both the start and finish lines at Wauconda High School, 555 N. Main St. Riders can choose either 31, 62, 80 or 100 mile rides through northwestern Lake and eastern McHenry Counties, as well as southern Walworth County, Wis. The cost to those who register by mail before June 1 is $12, with a fee of $15 thereafter. Village may vote to restrict snowmobiles

HAWTHORN WOODS—Responding to complaints from residents, the Hawthorn Woods Village Board will discuss whether to ban snowmobile owners from driving on the side of village roads. The village of Hawthorn Woods does not have any sidewalks so snowmobiles are forced to ride along road easements. Illinois law requires that snowmobile drivers ride 30 feet from the center of the road. This often forces mobile drivers onto private property, officer Lori Spector said.

BANG files complaint against area gun club

HAINESVILLE—The kick-off of the year for the new president of the Northbrook Sports Club Tony Sabbia came in the form of a complaint from his neighbors, three people who live within the area of the club. According to college professor Jerry Leckman of BANG (Ban the Abusive Noise of Guns), the noise is disruptive and sometimes gets so loud he has trouble grading his papers and reading. Sabbia said he was shocked at the document because he thought the whole issue was "in limbo." The gun club hasn't heard from BANG since 1988, said Sabbia, and he though everything was okay. When asked what they hope to accomplish by the complaint, Leckman simply stated, "Peace and quiet."

Neighbors reach out to family of burn victim

MUNDELEIN—A trust fund has been set up for the family of a 5-year-old girl injured in a Christmas Eve fire. Tammi Grange was playing with a cigarette lighter when her dress caught fire. Hospitalized at St. Mary's Burn Center in Milwaukee, she is undergoing skin graft treatments. Donations may be sent to the Tammi Grange Family Program at the First of America Bank, 2 Phillips Rd., Vernon Hills. For more information call 816-5780.

Stalking suspect arrested on warrant

LIBERTYVILLE — Police arrested John J. Mostacci, 25, of Des Plaines, on a warrant issued Dec. 16. The department received an anonymous tip that Mostacci was in an apartment on Court of Birch in Vernon Hills. They advised the Vernon Hills Police Department and a stakeout was set up. The Libertyville warrant stemmed from threats Mostacci made to his wife and violated an order of protection. He was taken into custody Jan. 4 and charged with aggravated stalking. Remanded to the Lake County Jail with no bond, he is scheduled to appear in court Jan. 10.

Announcement of hope made public

FOX LAKE—A longtime area educator and past resident of Fox Lake announced her desire to be the next superintendent of Grant Community High School. Dr. Diane Vida is the current director of humanities at the high school, as well as the administrative assistant to Dr. Don Klusendorf, nine-year superintendent who stated his retirement in June. When asked why the 21-year educator thinks she should step up to the plate for a chance at superintendency, Vida simply said, "Because I believe I'm the best qualified educator in the district."

Apartments clear hurdle in Gurnee

GURNEE—Although this battle may have been lost, many Gurnee residents took a developer to task for saying what is planned around their homes in the Stonebrook area of Gurnee. Gurnee Village Board members cleared the way for Buckingham Companies' Northlake Apartment complex by approving by unanimous vote the preliminary plat for 225 one and two-bedroom apartments. The complex will be located west of the satellite fire station site off Hunt Club Road and south of Target.

Ice fishing picks up in most area lakes

LAKE COUNTY—Ice fishermen descended on area lakes in search of ellusive game fish. The bluegill action seemed to be best with crappies and striped bass also active on the Chain O' Lakes. The ice is anywhere from six to seven inches on various lakes with some open channels.

Several petition challenges successful

ANTIOCH—Several candidates for precinct committeemen are now out of the race as a result of petition challenges. Barbara Barnabee of the 253rd Precinct has been ruled out by the electoral board. Michael Karpeles of the 369th Precinct and Michael Haley of Precinct 3 have withdrawn from the race after their petitions were challenged. In the race for county board, candidate Kenneth Domachuk received a continuance in order to present several signers of his petition. A handwriting analyst will be reviewing the signatures of five names on his petition.

Trustee quits finance post over budget gap

KILDEER—Village Trustee Todd Swim resigned as finance chairman after being rebuffed once again in his bid to become the budget officer. Swim refused to call a finance committee meeting to discuss budgetary concerns, and asked for another vote on Village President Barbara Schwietert's November appointment of Trustee William Pailey Jr. as budget officer, but was told he was out of order. He called the appointment "politics at its worst," citing the vast amounts of experience he has dealing with budgets as an actuary. Two trustees stood by Swim, saying he should lead the village through the budget process.

Sams pleads guilty to only three counts

GRAYSLAKE—On Thursday, Donald Sams pleaded guilty to three of the 11 counts against him for the kidnapping, attempted murder and rape of a 26 year-old female car wash customer on Oct. 15. Sams, a former resident of Wildwood, was an employee of the Shell gas station on the corner of Routes 120 and 45 in Grayslake when the attack occurred. Sams, who appeared before Judge Raymond McKoski in Lake County is eligible to receive a maximum of 120 years in prison. He pleaded guilty to one count each of attempted first-degree murder, aggravated criminal sexual assault, and aggravated kidnapping. The guilty pleas were not a result of a plea bargain. No decision has been made concerning the remaining charges against him.

Volunteer firefighters donate smoke alarms

FOX LAKE—Thanks to the Fox Lake Volunteer Fire Department, who wanted to do something nice for the community, more homes are now a little safer. Headed by Deputy Chief Bill Riggs, the volunteer fire department handed out around 200 smoke alarms to area residents through the Grant Township Christmas Basket program. "It's a fact that smoke detectors save lives," Riggs explained. Any Grant Township or Fox Lake area residents who are in need of a smoke detector for their home, may contact Fox Lake Fire Station at (708)-587-3312.

SAVE YOUR FAMILY TIME AND MONEY

Do you know what "probate" is? It is the court process by which debts are paid and assets are distributed to heirs.

What can you do now so that your loved ones can avoid the costly and frustrating probate process? You can attend a FREE ESTATE PLANNING SEMINAR and learn how a living trust can work for your family. A living trust can be defined in simple terms as a will substitute, one that allows your heirs to avoid meeting a probate judge. As the trustee (financial manager) of your trust, you can continue to do the same things you did before the trust existed, such as buy, sell, or give away the trusts' assets. You set up your living trust according to your desires. You are in complete control.

When you consider the cost of a will and the fees involved in probate, as compared to setting up a living trust, the trust is a much more reasonable choice. It saves not only money, but time. Your heirs will not have to wait six, nine, or twelve months to receive what you have left them.

In Illinois, probate is required when the assets total over $50,000. The probate process can be quite costly, reducing the amount of assets that heirs receive. Attorney's fees, court costs and executor's fees can reduce assets that go to the heirs by as much as 10%. There is also a time delay, because the minimum amount of time that an estate would be tied up in probate court in Illinois is six months, but normally probate takes nine to twelve months, and sometimes longer.

Blood drive

St. Peter's Church in Antioch will hold its annual blood drive with Life Source on Saturday, Jan. 22, from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. According to Life Source, donors can range from age 17 to 79. Donors need to be healthy and weigh more than 110 pounds. At this time, Life Source reports a shortage of O+, O-, and B- blood types. While walk-ins are welcome, appointments can be made by calling 395-8828.

Winter parking

A reminder to Antioch Village residents that it is unlawful to park any vehicle on any village street for longer than three minutes to unload passengers and 30 minutes to unload property after the snow begins to fall and accumulate over one inch. This prohibition will con

Recycling

Antioch Township residents are reminded that as of Jan. 8, weekly recycling will be available. Residents are asked to bring their recyclables to the northern lot of Antioch Community High School from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays. For more information, call the township at 395-3378.

Name changes

Two area streets will have new names by the middle of February. The Antioch Village Board has approved the name changes of Liberty Street to Williams Street and Turner Drive to Holbeck Drive. Confused? Well, apparently the names of these streets have been changed for a while but it was never done officially and the old names appeared on some maps. By the way, Liberty Street in Antioch Township, near West Loon Lake, is still Liberty Street.

School closings

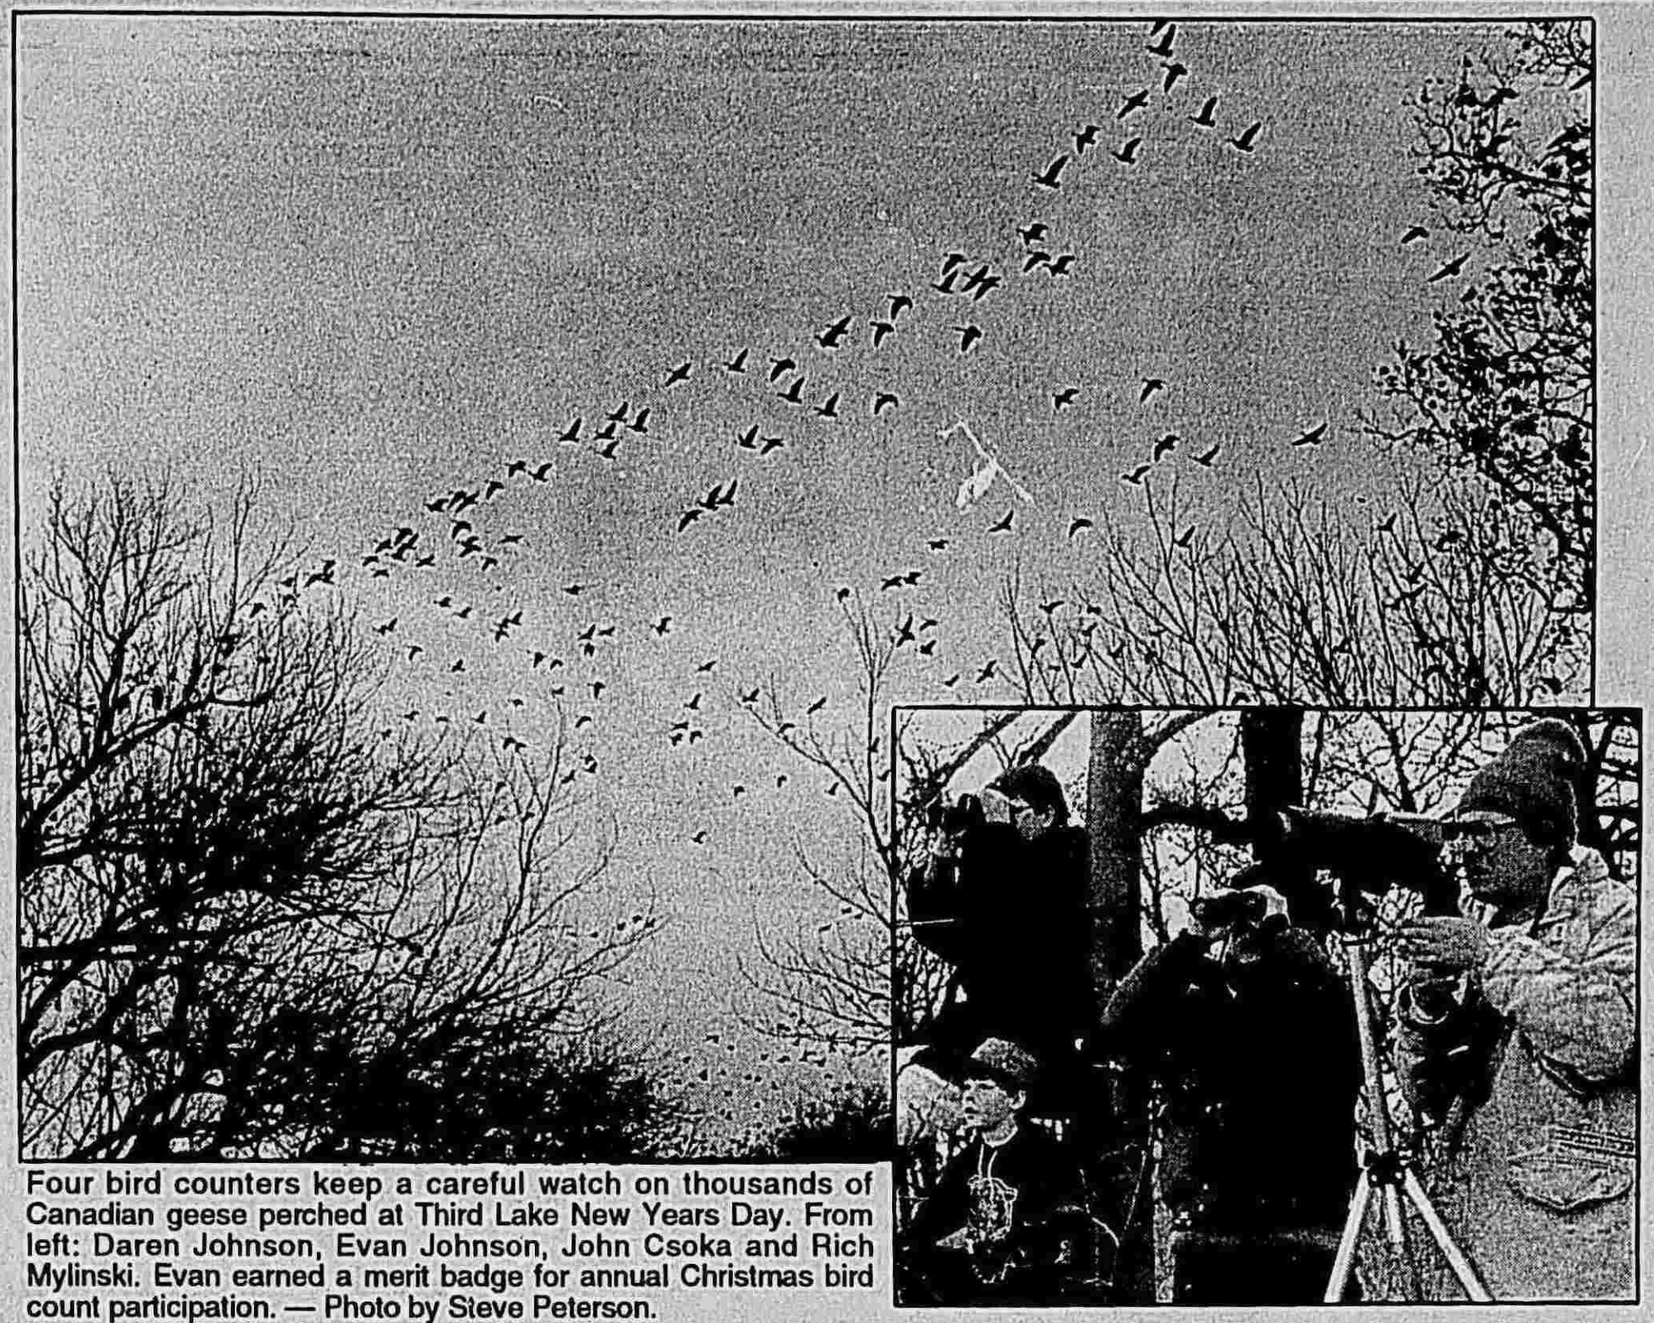

Parents of students in Antioch's Community Consolidated School District 34 are reminded that school closing announcements due to bad weather will be made locally on channels: WKRS-WXLC 1220 AM, WNIZ 97 FM, AND WLIP-WJZQ 1050 AM 95.1 FM. In the event that weather and road conditions in the early morning would not permit the safe transportation of students, schools will be closed by the joint action of District 34 and Antioch Community High School. While WGN, WMAQ, and WBBM FM will also be called, the local stations often announce local school closings earlier than Chicago stations.

Tree pick up

Christmas trees will be picked up during the week of Jan. 10 to 14 in Antioch. Trees, which must be free of all tinsel, hooks and ornaments, will be picked up at the curb and mulched. For more information call 395-1000.

La Leche meeting

La Leche League of Chain-O-Lakes will hold their meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 19 at 9:30 a.m. For information and location of the meeting, call Sharon Mullaney at 688-0424. The topic of discussion will be "Breastfeeding: The Healthy Choice."

Bird watchers begin year with binoculars

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The scene could have been right out of the Alfred Hitchock movie "The Birds."

At precisely 12:15 p.m. Saturday, hundreds, if not thousands of Canadian Geese left their resting spots along Third Lake.

Dave Johnson and crew immediately reached for their telescopes and binoculars to record the types of birds who decided to call Third Lake home the first afternoon of 1994.

"It is a large open-water habitat," Johnson said of Third Lake. Earlier, the bird counters were on the other side of Third Lake, where the new village hall is being built.

Through the telescope, one can see ducks hundreds of feet away.

"I have been out since 5 a.m.," Scott Ferrell of Antioch said.

Johnson, whose son Evan, age eight, is earning a merit badge from Pack 79 of Buffalo Grove for the annual bird count, reported the Grayslake area remains a popular spot for gulls. Daren Johnson, age five, joined the group as well as John Csoka and Nancy Halliday.

Johnson and the group visited Third Lake, Druce Lake, Gages Lake, and as far north as Millburn on their annual bird count.

Some 240 cowbirds were seen at Atkinson Road in Grayslake. There were also six purple finch and 20 rough-legged hawks.

The effort begins as early as 5 a.m. by using flashlights and boom boxes. Area growth does impact bird migration habits.

"At a lot of places where birds used to go, there are homes there now," one bird counter said.

Rich Mylinski of Lake Villa predicted many of the birds and other wildlife which were found at Ravinia Woods. The subdivision off Route 45 marks the western boundary of Gurnee.

Arbor Day projects begin in village

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Village of Antioch has begun preparations for Arbor Day projects despite the sub-zero weather. The Arbor Day Committee has several projects in conjunction with the Antioch Lions, Rotary Club International, school children, teachers, and Antioch Village volunteers to insure that Antioch will retain its Tree City, USA status.

First of all, donations are now being accepted for the Antioch Tree Fund for the 1994 tree planting program. Last year approximately 12 large trees were planted in Osmond Park as a result of this program. This year, Jensen Park will receive new trees. All of the trees are purchased with donated funds and checks can be made payable to the Village of Antioch. Donations may be mailed or dropped off at the Antioch Village Hall.

In cooperation with the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District, the Arbor Day Committee will have tree sale order forms at the village hall. Residents may order seedlings, bare root trees, balled and burlapped trees, bare root shrubs, and special packages at reasonable prices. The order deadline is April 1.

The other program in the works is the free tree program. Antioch residents can reserve five free 1/2-foot seedlings for the Arbor Day planting program. In order to receive the free trees, write to Arbor Day Committee, PO Box 288, Antioch, IL 60002.

Both programs have been in operation for two years. In order to participate in the Tree City, USA program, the village must have an Arbor Day program.

Village board considers regulation of cable TV

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Village Board has authorized Village Attorney Kenneth Clark to investigate the possibility of regulating rate hikes under the 1992 Cable Television Act. Under the Act, a municipality may elect to regulate the amount of money that can be charged by the cable television company for the basic service and equipment.

While municipalities are not required to regulate these rates, it is expected that the rates will jump when the rate freeze expires on February 15. If the local governmental body chooses not to regulate, there will be little limitation on how high that rate increase could be.

The problem with electing to regulate, however, is that the Act is yet one more "unfunded mandate."

In order to regulate, the village must hold public hearings and pay personnel to evaluate the rate information provided by the cable company.

The Village of Antioch is considering combining with other municipalities to offset the costs of regulating cable. By joining with other communities into a consortium, the costs of public hearings will be reduced.

In addition to authorizing Clark to investigate, the board has instructed him to take whatever steps are necessary, including preparing an intent to file. According to Mayor Marilyn Shineflug, the intent must be filed by Jan. 15.

Holiday surprise—Karen Schmehl, Michael Okolita to wed

Engagement

Once again, I share some very happy, exciting and memorable news from the Schmehl family homefront. My husband, Jim, Sr., and I are very happy to announce the engagement of our daughter Karen to Michael Okolita. Karen is the youngest of our three daughters (our baby girl) and the third child on the totem of four. Michael surprised her with this extra special Christmas surprise on Christmas Eve, Dec. 24.

This well executed surprise had a two-fold effect. It made the holiday even more special and joyous and because of the holiday the special moment and occasion is also more memorable. When Mike and Karen arrived at the family gathering, Karen was literally shaking with excitement as she proudly extended her beautifully adorned ring finger for everyone to see and oooooh and aaaaah over. Congratulations and much future happiness together.

Fun activities

Once again the park and recreation department under the fine leadership of Carol Todd has a lot of fun activities and programs planned for the people of Antioch during winter and spring of 1994. For children ages four years and up, there is a beginner tumbling class held on Tuesday at the Antioch Senior Center; the annual Daddy/Daughter Date Night is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 19. This is a formal event and a truly memorable evening for daddy and his little girl(s).

It will be held in the AUGS gym and tickets must be purchased in advance on or before Feb. 11; the Easter parade will be on Saturday, March 26. Immediately following the parade will be the Easter Egg Hunt for children ages two to nine years old. It will be held on the grounds of the Antioch Lower Grade School. Advance registration is recommended and only 50 extra children will be allowed to participate on site the day of the hunt; if you are musically inclined, why not join the Lakes Area Community Band.

Membership is open to high school students and adults; register now for the men's basketball league which begins on Jan. 24.

If you would like more information on any of these fun programs/activities, contact Carol Todd at 395-2160.

What?

As you read this cute little tidbit, remember the Camp Crayon Program is for children ages 3, 4 and 5 years old. Before Christmas Party Day, Miss Marie made a big yellow sign as a reminder to hang on the door concerning the particulars of party day. After jotting down all the necessary information, she held it up for the staffers to review. We indicated our agreement and then little Kirsten Rognstad exclaimed—"Miss Marie, remember I can't read!" Once again, out of the mouths of babes.

ACHS

The second Thursday of each month Antioch Community High School Principal Dr. Michael Radakovich hosts an informal meeting with parents. During these meetings discussions will include various aspects of the school, the future of the school and current progress. If you would like to sign up for a meeting, call 395-1421, ext. 231.

Stephanie Rabiola, an ACHS senior, is on her way to an exciting career in acting. Besides working on school productions, Stephanie has also made her mark on the big screen. She has tried out for parts in "The Fugitive," "With Honors" and "Missing Persons." Recently Stephanie played an extra in "I Love Trouble" starring Julia Roberts and Nick Nolte.

Remember the name "Stephanie Rabiola" and Stephanie, when you hit it big, remember your old "hometown" of Antioch.

Happy Birthday

With December behind us, it is now time for a monthly January birthday list. January also marks the beginning of the New Year, 1994. It is once again time to put all of those New Year resolutions into action. My priority resolution remains the same, to always count and appreciate the many blessings in my life.

This year I add one more to my list, the attempt to shed a few (okay quite a few) unwanted/unneeded pounds. Wish me luck.

Meanwhile Happy January Birthday to Katy Baird, Jenny Brausam, Vivian Brausam, Ryan Church, Seth Davis, Felicia Garofalo, Jamie Gollon, Chris Groh, Eric Hansen, Adam Hiller, Lauren Kuth, David LaForge, Gregory Lyons, Wally Mozal.

Cathy Radlein, Kirsten Rognstad, Nicole Rognstad, Cindy Schaller, Andrew Schmehl, Stacy Smerz, Troy Sonday, Mandy Tomasello and Rachel Wolf. I also extend a happy belated Dec. 25 birthday to Carol Todd of Antioch and a Dec. 16—40th birthday wish to Mary Franzen, who was treated to a special surprise birthday gathering in the home of Paula Maniscalco.

Tomorrow's Leaders

ACHS students, Marc Gantar, William O'Donnell, and Kathleen Warner have been nominated for scholarship awards sponsored by Tomorrow's Leaders. Tomorrow's Leaders is seeking to recognize, reward and support outstanding seniors who possess certain attributes that are not easily measured by academic, athletic or financial need criteria. It recognizes students who show a keen sense of purpose, have deep convictions, and can communicate their goals for the future clearly and concisely. Scholarship winners will be announced in late February.

Tom Tom honor

The 1992-1993 Antioch Community High School Tom Tom staff has received a first place honor from the Kettle Morraine Press Association. The school newspaper staff received the award at the annual KEMPA workshop held at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater.

Science Careers

ACHS teacher Dan Mikal and guidance counselor Joey Freund visited Abbott Laboratories to attend "Exploring Careers in Science" seminars, designed to help them help students enter science careers. The seminars were presented by Abbott employees who used their science education in a variety of scientific and non-scientific disciplines. Speakers included laboratory scientists, research project managers, regulatory affairs managers, a patent attorney, and a sales representative. They told about how they became interested and were encouraged in science, their education and career, and the qualities and skills that have helped them succeed. A human resources staffing manager also gave an overview of the types of scientific positions at Abbott and the recruiting process

TV Appearance

Clarence Williams, Director of Special Education and Special Services at Antioch Community High School, appeared on a TV 38 program with radio personality Dick Staub. The professionals appeared with a public school counselor stating that the public school system is not a billion dollar failure, and that there are many success stories. Mr. Williams also stated that parental involvement was a key to student success. A copy of the program is available through the special education department at ACHS.

Wedding

Benchick-Hill

Laura M. Benchick of McHenry and Kevin L. Hill of Richmond renewed their wedding vows on Jan. 1. They eloped to Las Vegas New Year's Eve 1993 and were married by Rev. Charolett Richards at the Little White Chapel on New Year's Day.

The bride is the daughter of Stephan and Bernice Benchick of McHenry. She is a 1988 graduate of Grant Community High School and attended the College of Lake County. She is employed at Baxter Healthcare in Waukegan.

The groom is the son of Tracey and Carol Hill of Richmond. He is a 1984 graduate of Richmond-Burton High School and attended McHenry County College and Miliken College. He is employed at Larry Stevens Construction in Twin Lakes, Wis.

A reception was a held at the Hill's home in Richmond. A honeymoon trip to San Francisco.

Brian Champine

On superintendent's list

Midshipman Brian Champine, formerly of Widwood, has been named to the superintendent's list at the U.S. Naval Academy in his first semester. This honor requires excellence in academics, physical fitness, and military leadership. His brother and sisters gathered at the home of their mother in Antioch over the holidays. His sister, Pam, an attorney in New York City, joined the family over the Christmas weekend.

Reports for duty

Navy Seaman Apprentice Shane M. Werner, son of Thomas R. and Elizabeth A. Werner of Antioch, reported for duty aboard the aircraft carrier USS Constellation, homeported in San Diego. The 1991 graduate of Antioch High School joined the Navy in July, 1993.

Completes basic

Navy Seaman Recruit Matthew G. Swanson, son of Jane E. Swanson of Antioch completed basic training at Recruit Training Command, San Diego. During the cycle, recruits are taught general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training. He is a 1993 graduate of Adeli E. Stevenson High School of Lincolnshire.

Bank sponsors '55 ALIVE'

"Overwhelming" was First Chicago Bank-Antioch President Carl McWherter's described public response to the first "55 ALIVE" defensive driving course co-sponsored by the American Association of Retired Persons and First Chicago Bank-Antioch. "We were booked beyond capacity for the first two-day session scheduled on November 16 and 17, at the Antioch Senior Center, 817 Holbek Dr., Antioch," he says. "But after the second session, held November 30 and December 1 was also over-booked, I don't know what to describe that response: Perhaps 'stunning!' is the word."

"Consequently, we have had to schedule still another additional two-day session for Tuesday and Wednesday, January 18 and 19. Like the first two sessions, it will be at the Antioch Senior Center, 817 Holbek Dr., Antioch from 1 to 5pm each day. Participants need to attend both sessions to receive credit against their existing auto insurance premiums, but there are no tests to pass, nor driving involved," he says.

This will definitely be the last in the series, for at least a year, McWherter says, so any who were unable to be accommodated in the first two of the series should visit the bank at 425 Lake Street, Antioch, to register and deposit the $8 fee as soon as possible.

The reduction in insurance premiums for each participating driver is mandatory for those living in Illinois, and is valid for three years. For Wisconsin residents, the reduction is optional for each insurance company. The premium reductions vary according to amount and type of insurance coverage, but can be significant.

Antioch Scouts garner a multitude of awards

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Boy Scout Troop 92, of Antioch, earned hundreds of awards through both individual effort as well as troop awards. The troop reviewed its 1993 accomplishments during its annual holiday dinner held at the Loyal Order of the Moose Lodge and served by the Auxiliary.

The program, led by Committee Chairperson Barbara Brongel, Scoutmaster Ray Landrum, and Assistant Scoutmaster Richard Weston, included an awards ceremony, a presentation to the Antioch Rescue Squad, a holiday buffet dinner, and a visit from Santa Claus who presented gifts to the younger members of the audience.

"The Boy Scouts is an organization that allows the boys to lead themselves. It is truly a boys run organization," said Landrum. "We have done very well in the past and will do well in the future. The boys here take pride in the leadership skills."

During 1993, the unit awards received by the troop consisted of the National BSA Quality Unit Early Bird Troop, which is a progress award; 1st place district first aid meet; 1st place Summer Camp Staff Hunt; 7th place out of 21 at the Council First Aid Meet; the Baden Powell Troop award, which is a summer camp award; 3rd place Lakes District Camporee; 1st place District Klondike Derby, which is their winter competition; and 100 percent "Boys Life" troop.

Over 100 individual merit badges were earned by the 21 scouts in the troop. During the year, there were 29 rank advances including 12 scout, 5 tenderfoot and second class, 4 first class, 1 star, and 2 life. There were also 81 individual special awards which included participation in the Galena Trek, 50 Miler Afloat, Wilderness Survival, Wood Duck, NRA-Pro Marksman, Wolverine Canoe Race, Project COPE, Order of Arrow, BSA Lifeguard, Junior Leadership Training, and for the first time, the National BSA Jamboree.

Scouts recognized at this ceremony were Conrad Adkins, Eric Burgess, Eugene Bryne, Andrew and James Dalgaard, John and Scott Dunklau, Brandon and Eric Franke, Eric Geyer, Eric Green, Scott Kudingo, Geoff and John Landrum, Adam Niles, Jason and Jeremie Pederson, Johnathan and Stefan Sladek, and Brian and Steven Weston. Also, the many adult leaders were recognized including veteran scouters Bernie Dost (30 years), Art Doty (28 years), and Bill Goetzelman (10 years).

Troop leaders expressed their thanks to the special guests in attendance as well as the many individuals and groups who support troop activities. The Antioch Rescue Squad was presented a plaque in gratitude for the first-aid training the volunteers provide to the scouts each year.

All in all, Troop 92 had a great year in 1993. The troop is sponsored by the Moose Lodge 525 and meets at the Antioch Scout House on Tuesdays from 7 to 9 p.m. For more information call Scoutmaster Ray Landrum at 395-0958.

Beautification Committee named

The Antioch Village Board has passed a resolution to form an ad-hoc beautification committee. The committee will be under the leadership of Claude LeMere, village development director.

The purpose of the committee is to enhance the commercial and industrial areas of the Village of Antioch through landscaping. The terms of the appointees will be one year.

The formation of the committee was delayed when Village Attorney Kenneth Clark voiced some concerns about liability insurance for the members. However, it was later learned there would be no liability problems because the committee are appointed to the group.

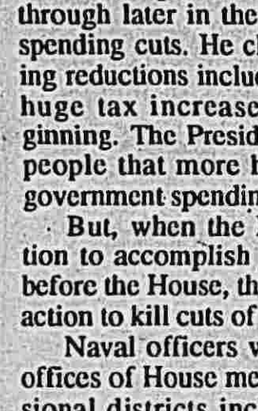

Appointed to the committee are Dick Olsen, Debbie Kerr Carpenter, Reverend Chuck Miller, Mark Mallen, Fred Stahl, Tom Kessel, JoAnne Dugenske, George Lynch, Christian Lynch, Betty McDonald, and Ed Cisseau.

Defeat of spending cuts bitter in the first session

One of the bitter disappointments of the recently concluded First Session of the 103rd Congress was the defeat of the bi-partisan attempt to reduce government spending by $90 billion over five years. Instead, President Clinton and the House Democratic leadership were able to marshal the forces necessary to defeat the significant, specific cuts proposed by Republican Congressman John Kasich of Ohio, the senior Republican member of the House Budget Committee, and Democrat Congressman Timothy Penny of Minnesota.

It has been reported that the President enlisted the help of his wife, cabinet members and Navy brass, among others, to defeat the House effort to chop the spending of taxpayer dollars.

Last August, you'll recall, as he fought to gain congressional approval of his tax package, the largest in our history, the President promised he would follow through later in the year with significant spending cuts. He claimed the few spending reductions included in his bill with the huge tax increase, were only the beginning. The President told the American people that more had to be done to cut government spending.

But, when the Kasich-Penny legislation to accomplish just such a goal went before the House, the President swung into action to kill cuts of that size.

Naval officers were dispatched to the offices of House members whose congressional districts included Navy facilities that the Pentagon said would be closed or scaled back under the proposed legislation.

Not one Republican voted for the President's tax package with its limited cuts last summer. Mr. Clinton was able to gain a victory, by a one vote margin in the House, and only with the vote of Vice President Albert Gore in the Senate, by promising conservative Democrats that he would provide further cuts in the fall.

But the bipartisan coalition caught the President by surprise. The cuts proposed were far greater than what the Clinton White House had expected.

Kasich-Penny also called for the elimination of 252,000 federal jobs. This was a follow-up to my move earlier in the month of November to cut the same number of jobs from the federal payroll in an effort to save $21 billion in federal spending.

Although my proposal was adopted by the House on a 226-to-202 vote, it went down in defeat in a House-Senate conference committee. The committee disregarded the House vote instructing its conference committee members to insist upon including my amendment in the conference report.

The Administration this year is expected to propose a cut in jobs of the same size. However, the Crane Amendment and the Kasich-Penny legislation earmarked the savings for deficit reduction. The Clinton Administration merely wants to move the money from one federal pocket to another, allowing the savings to be used for other spending.

When one realizes that the $90 billion represented only a one percent cut in federal spending, one wonders what happened to Candidate Clinton's call for a reduced deficit, and President Clinton's statement last summer that he wanted new, significant cuts in spending.

Instead of approving the Kasich-Penny Amendment, the President successfully supported a weak package of cuts amounting to only $37 billion, a little more than a third of the bipartisan deficit cutting proposal.

Several area petition challenges successful

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

While the petition challenge of county board candidate Ken Domanchuk is still pending in the courts, the outcome of all the other challenges have been decided.

Several candidates for precinct committeemen are now out of the race. Barbara Barnabee of the 253 Precinct has been ruled out by the electoral board, which is comprised of the county clerk, the clerk of the circuit court, and a deputy states attorney.

Michael Karpeles of the 369th Precinct and Michael Haley of Precinct 3 have withdrawn from the race after their petitions were challenged.

'These discrepancies were due to the signatures of non-registered voters in the district as well as multiple signatures by the same person.'

—Carol Jonites

The electoral board has granted a continuance for Domanchuk who is now facing a challenge to five signatures. On Monday, one of the original six challenged signatures was deemed valid. He requested a continuance because two of the individuals who signed the petition were on vacation and not able to appear until Wednesday.

Domanchuk, who had obtained a total of 45 signatures has had seven struck because they were not registered voters in the district. With seven of them already ineligible, he is left with 38, which is three over the needed 35.

However, Chris Peters, who has made the challenge, with her attorney Robert Long, will return to the 10th floor of the Lake County Courthouse on Friday with a forensic handwriting analyst. On Wednesday signatures will be obtained in order to make a comparison. Peters is contesting an additional five signatures.

"I am disappointed that he got a continuance," said Peters. "I had hoped it would be resolved by now."

Peters is a member of the Alliance for Better Government, a political action group. The Alliance had originally inspected the petitions in order to verify their legitimacy.

"Discrepancies were found on a county board candidate's petition as well as precinct committeemen petitions," said Carol Jonites, secretary for the Alliance. "These discrepancies were due to the signatures of non-registered voters in the district as wells as multiple signatures by the same person."

The group's goals include encouraging citizens to become more actively involved in local government. By challenging the petitions, the group hopes to send a message to local politicians that residents of the community intend to take a more active stance in the election process.

"The Alliance for Better Government encourages citizens of the community to become actively involved in the political electoral process," explained Roy Sackschewsky, chairman of the Alliance. "One of our objectives is to attain an open government that is responsive to its citizens."

The Alliance for Better Government is looking for residents who are interested in becoming involved. Call 395-7214 or 395-7371 for more information or their address at PO Box 312, Antioch, IL 60002.

Police Beat

Persons charged with a crime are innocent until proven guilty in a court of law

ANTIOCH

Theft

Albert Bischoffer, age 27, of Antioch was arrested for stealing $66 worth of cigarettes and on two counts of resisting arrested on Dec. 31. Bischoffer was report-edly observed taking the cigarettes from Speedway Gas Station in Antioch. He then fled in the direction of the saw mill. When he was spotted walking up Toft Avenue, he refused to be handcuffed. At this time it was observed Bischoffer's hand was bleeding and he told officers he "cut it on some dudes teeth." Bischoffer, who appeared intoxicated became combative when Antioch Rescue Squad volunteers attempted to treat him. While the 37 packs of cigarettes were not found, a video of the theft was made.

DWLS

Xesiria Meyers, whose real name is Lee Cockrell, age 21, of Antioch was arrested on Dec. 31 for driving while license was suspended, failure to signal, and illegal squealing of tires. Meyers/Cockrell was released on bond.

Battery

Catherine Fall, age 57, and William Richter, age 34, were arrested after a New Years party went bad. Fall was arrested for battery when she refused to leave the party. The police were called and while they were there, Fall and the victim got into a physical confrontation. After bringing Fall to the station, police were called back to the scene to arrest Richter for domestic battery. The victim told police that Richter lost his temper, threw furniture around, and injured her. All parties were released on bond.

Possession of cannabis

Eric Pastick, age 19 of Bristol, Wisconsin, and Brian Suchecki, of Antioch were arrested on Dec. 30 after being observed driving a vehicle with an expired registration. When officers approached the car they saw an opened 12-pack of beer. On route to the police department it was discovered that Suchecki had a small amount of marijuana in his possession. Suchecki was charged with possession of cannabis and open transportation of alcohol. Pastick was charged with no valid registration and open transportation of alcohol. Both were released on bond.

New ordinance will require disclosure of ownership

A new ordinance was read at the Antioch Village Board meeting which would require the disclosure of the persons owning, leasing, or holding property in a name other than their own. This disclosure will be required before issuance of any building permits, zoning requests, subdivision requests, or any type of license.

The ordinance will also apply to owners, tenants, or holders of property who have legal ownership of the property in land trusts and living inter vivos trusts. In these cases, the individual name or names of the legal and beneficial owners must appear on all documents filed with the village.

The ordinance will specifically affect, although not limited to, general licenses, taxicabs, amusement licenses, liquor licenses, cable television, businesses, and any type of zoning application. The ordinance is expected to receive the full approval of the board.

Sunset clause could darken future of Waterway Agency

by TINA L. SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

With an invitation for assistance, east met west at the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency meeting held at the Mineola Hotel.

Never weary to uphold their convictions, two members from the McHenry branch of Concerned Citizens for the Continuation of the Agency committee (CCCA) and a duo from the Lake County side lead a gathering at the historic hotel with about 25 residents.

Jerry Cordrey and Chuck Miller came in from McHenry's CCCA, and Pete Jakstas and Woodrow "Woody" Boedecker joined in with Lake County's plea to keep the agency open. The agency may see its last day Dec. 31 of 1994.

A sunset clause ending after the 10 years is up, seemed like a far cry away when the agency was formed in 1984.

"We need an initiative," Dr. William C. Dam, agency chairman said. "Voting gives lawmakers latitude."

Residents will vote on a March 15 referendum to keep the agency operational.

"We're looking to educate people who can vote in the primary," Cordrey said. The committeeman gave a little lesson. Cordrey explained that if the agency is terminated, money collected by user fees would go to the state, and could be used in any waterway they choose.

"We feel it more feasible to collect the money here and use it here," said Cordrey.

Jakstas, owner of the Mineola Marina and Hotel said that he couldn't stress enough that people have to understand that nothing comes from their pockets when it comes to keeping the agency alive.

"It does not come out of real estate tax. Only the people who use the Chain and pay the user fees," said Jakstas.

The meeting at the Mineola was the first for the McHenry CCCA, which is still in the process of gathering members. "We're putting together a committee over here to raise money for educational and promotional material for the referendum," Cordrey said.

According to Jakstas, currently a complete map of both McHenry and Lake County voters will be composed in order to target those residents. In the last primary around 8,000 people voted, said Jakstas.

The agency group also plans to carry out a telephone poll.

A meeting of the McHenry group was to be held Jan. 5 to discuss how the newly formed team can get ready for a referendum.

On Jan. 7 at noon at Docker's on 33 W. Grand Ave., Fox Lake, both sides will meet again along with legislators, who have the final say on the agency.

Band plays on

Antioch residents enjoyed carols by members of the Lakeland Community Band's brass section while banking at First Chicago-Antioch. Taking their playing stance are United Airlines Captain Robert M. Schmelzer, and dentist Robert Sven.

AARP to hold first '94 meeting

Antioch Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) will hold its first meeting of the new year on Jan. 11 at the Antioch Senior Center, 817 Holbek Dr., Antioch. Memberships expired on Dec. 31 and renewals will be accepted at this meeting. Annual dues are $3.

Many programs have been planned for members by Program Chairperson Eleanor Clark. Members who attend meetings regularly are kept informed of all national programs and current legislation effecting these programs. They participate in the many programs that exemplify the AARP slogan to serve, not to be served.

New members are always welcome. Come join this most active Chapter and discover the many benefits of AARP and, at the same time, enjoy the company of other seniors in an atmosphere of mutual happiness and togetherness. Genevieve Horsch is president of the Chapter. The meeting on Jan. 11 is a business meeting, brown bag. Bring your lunch and learn what President Horsch has in store for 1994.

Fire station

executive session."

"I do not know of security problems to warrant this type of system," said Trustee Mabel Weber. "Why is this system so necessary?"

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug suggested that if the problem is a personnel issue, it would be appropriate to discuss it in an executive session. The board then agreed it would be discussed at the executive session prior to the next village board meeting on Jan. 17 at 7 p.m.

"We are talking about taxpayer money, justifying spending $10,000 a year," cautioned Trustee Don Amundsen. "We better have a major problem if we are going to spend $10,000 a year on security."

If the Security Link package is approved, the Village of Antioch would pick up half the tab while the Fire Protection District would pay the rest. According to Shannon, the Fire Protection board has already approved the plan.

Representatives from Security Link were present at the meeting and explained the security features and leasing program to the board. The board was told the lease term could be extended, and if the board was not happy with the negotiated terms of the new lease, upon expiration, the village could drop the entire service. Of course, as one trustee pointed out, the taxpayers would then be out $51,000 and the fire station would have no security system.

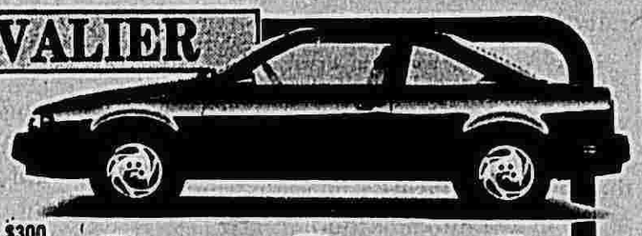

Security Link representatives also told the board 27 municipalities use some variation on the system.

"This system provides effective control measures as well as life safety," said Dave Thomas of Security Link. "It provides a computerized printout of who comes in and out of the building as well as a visual record."

Retain water agency

Plan March advisory referendum to assist legislators in deciding if bureau will continue.

In a state noted for a multiplicity of governmental units, the Chain O'Lakes/Fox River Water Management Agency ranks as most unusual. It has no taxing power, officers serve without pay and the agency was given a definite life when authorized by an act of the Illinois General Assembly a decade ago.

Enabling legislation provided that the Water Management Agency come up for review in 10 years. The "sunset" proviso was one of the compromise conditions agreed upon by the agency's "father," former State Sen. Jack Schaffer.

It is highly doubtful whether the agency would have come into being without the sunset provision, a rarity in Illinois law. Not only did the agency have a unique and duplicative purpose---improving water quality on the Chain and providing for better safety---but the very presence of another governmental agency was viewed as a threat and potential obstruction by the Illinois Dept. of Transportation, Dept. of Conservation and other entrenched bureaucracies.

Combining his legislative skill and local knowledge, Schaffer reasoned correctly that the agency would offer a fresh, innovative approach to dealing with the myriad problems besetting the state's largest and most heavily used recreational body of water.

The fact that the Water Management Agency would challenge existing authority and provide a means for dealing with pollution, cleaning up the environment and bringing order out of chaos resulting from the multi-jurisdictional approach dealing with problems ranging from silting to no wake zones for fishing, is precisely why the agency was needed so badly and why it has taken nearly 10 years to achieve a modicum of success.

Now that the time is at hand according to statutes to review the agency, the question has to be asked whether the General Assembly should extend the life of the Water Management Agency. In our opinion, the answer is a resounding "yes." With limited funding and dealing with mountains of governmental red tape, not to mention public skepticism, the agency now is at the point where it can conduct meaningful dredging programs and provide unquestioned professional expertise in water management as it relates to flooding, recreational needs and elimination of pollution.

Officials of the non-tax supported unit have targeted the March primary to conduct an advisory referendum in the areas of Lake and McHenry counties where the agency has jurisdiction. Their intent is to provide the General Assembly with a positive direction from electors on extending the life of the agency which is due to go out of business later in 1994 unless legislative action is taken.

Voters in the areas along the river and surrounding the Chain will be asked a simple question on whether the life of the agency should be continued. A citizens committee has been organized to provide eligible voters with the information they need to make an informed decision. We wish committee members well and offer them the support of this newspaper to spread the word why the Water Management Agency should be continued.

Letters to the Editor

Define ownership

Editor:

I read with interest your recent editorial, "School Bashing Must Stop," in which you advocated that citizens must take ownership of the public schools, thus giving themselves the opportunity to promote and initiate school reform.

Your editorial addresses several key issues affecting today's schools. These include the matter of year round school operation, privatization of non-instructional services, multi-school sharing of teachers, and productivity in the context of collective bargaining. These are important issues to bring before the public, but equally important is the larger question of what might be the proper definition of "ownership" of schools by the citizens whose tax dollars help support the schools.

I applaud your thoughtful treatment of these and other issues which are part of the dialogue about the proper relationship between schools and the citizens they serve. Your editorial causes us to think more about the involvement we have with our local schools, particularly if our own children have completed their public school education.

Your editorial causes us to understand more clearly the relationship of local issues to regional and national issues. For example the State of Michigan Legislature is now deciding on school funding questions that will likely affect policy in Illinois and other states. And your editorial reminds us of the importance of dialogue about our schools. And this isn't insignificant dialogue. After all, the schools are where futures begin for thousands of Lake County children.

Editor:

I'd like to say "Thanks" to all the people who were there when the family of Ryan Michael Gould needed them on Christmas Day...the emergency room staff at Highland Park and Condell Memorial Hospitals, the rescue squad from Gurnee Fire and Rescue and the personnel at Walgreen's Drug Store in the Belvidere Mall. I appreciate it.

There are several people I'd like to single out for special mention because of the very personal nature of what I experienced with them: The pediatrician who patiently and at great length explained the circumstances and effects of a seizure brought on by a high fever, and assured us that Ryan is fine and we don't need to be afraid there will be any permanent damage.

The rescue squad member who held him in her arms, rocked, told stories and sang to him all the way to the hospital, after soothing and encouraging a distraught mother and grandmother.

And the pharmacist at Walgreen's, who was professional without being distant, and whose willingness to be on the job on Christmas Day made it possible for us to get the medicine Ryan needed to overcome the infection that was overwhelming him.

These people, their co-workers and many more like them give more than their time on an occasion like this. They offer compassion, support and encouragement beyond what is called for in a job description. They are truly a blessing for us all.

Redirect road money

Editor:

Am I the only one out here who wonders if our esteemed leaders who comprise the Lake County Board have undergone a reality check lately?

First we voters enthusiastically support a $30 million bond issue to buy/improve forest preserve land only to later find out that these same leaders who extol the virtue of open space for Lake County want to take $6 to $10 million from that pot of hard-earned tax dollars to build a 1/2 mile long road across a federally supported and internationally acclaimed wetlands reclamation project.

On top of that this road to nowhere will intersect with a state-supported road (Route 41) that has not been designated for improvement! I believe this means that the users of this road can't even be assured of a proper left-hand turn lane.

Then I read that this same County Board wants to come before the voters once again to ask for more money! (from $2.5 to $4 million) to upgrade our juvenile detention facilities in the county. What's wrong with this picture?

But why don't our elected County Board members realize it is wrong to be spending our taxpayer dollars for roads that will only benefit a few well-connected developers while our overburdened social service agencies beg for some of those same tax dollars to help make our county a better place to live?

Please, County Board, take the $6 to $10 million designated for a road that no one needs and no one can logically justify and put that money where it is really needed and wanted, towards those agencies and programs that strive to make this area of the world a better place to live. Or am I the one who is out of touch with reality??

LMV leaders to get VIP treatment

by BILL SCHROEDER

Lake County's biggest story of 1993, the expansion of Great Lakes Naval Training Center, undoubtedly will get bigger in 1994---when the economic affects of the Navy's decision to consolidate all recruit training here begins to be felt.

Through the 1980's, the economic benefits of the big military installation largely were looked upon as a boon to the Waukegan-North Chicago area. Threat of down-sizing the base by the Pentagon a year ago, however, alerted leaders from all corners of the county that every community has a vested interest in Great Lakes.

Lake County's fastest growing private school, for example, Calvary Christian Temple of Lake Villa, attributes a substantial part of its increase in enrollment to children from Navy families.

Business leaders are positioning themselves to better serve new Great Lakes arrivals. A delegation from the Libertyville-Mundelein-Vernon Hills (LMV) Chamber of Commerce has scheduled a VIP tour of the base Tuesday, Jan. 11, to get better acquainted. Merchants from the Lake Forest shopping area, one of the closest to the base, are taking steps to learn how to better serve consumers in uniform.

BE NICE TO LES----This is a good time to put in a kind word for Les Aspin, former Congressman from neighboring Kenosha County, who was the right man to be in the position of Dept. of Defense secretary when the showdown came whether Great Lakes would get all the Navy's recruits or be downgraded. Les should know that he still has friends in Lake County even if he is on President Clinton's well known list. Aspin will step down the end of January.

PREDICTIONS---Remember that you saw it here first. State gambling licenses will be granted in 1994 for casino riverboats in Fox Lake and Waukegan. Controversy over the Yorkhouse Rd. extension will run its course this year and construction will begin about 1996. Groundbreaking will begin later this year for stations and parking lots for rail commuter service on the Wisconsin Central.

BIG 'BREAKS'---The future will bare out that two groundbreakings last year only a mile or so apart off Rte. 45 were historical landmarks. At the Grayslake campus of the College of Lake County a cultural arts building was put under construction. The building will become the art, music and theater center of the northern suburbs. A short distance to the south, sod was broken for Prairie Crossing, a "back to the future" development blending homes, small town America shops with agriculture. The innovative development will achieve world-wide recognition.

Beyer, Uriarte viewed as Churchill successors

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of public opinion, is prepared from staff reports.

Two distaff Republicans are being talked about as possible successors to County GOP Chairman Robert "Bob" Churchill who won't be a candidate for reelection to the party post after the March 15 primary.

Both happen to be township chairman and reflect the growing unrest with the way party leaders ignore what's happening at the precinct level.

Receiving mention as Churchill successors were Charlene Beyer, Avon Township chairperson and Pat Uriarte, Libertyville Township chairperson and a long-time GOP worker at the grassroots level. Beyer also is mayor of Round Lake Park.

Churchill told party leaders at a holiday meeting that it's time to devote more time to his family in Lake Villa Township, his duties in Springfield as a state representative and his law practice in Grayslake.

Confusion at top---A Lake County Republican Central Committee snub of Assoc. Judge Barbara Gilleran-Johnson for support for an appellate court opening is being held out as an example of heavy-handed management by leadership that is causing dissension among the rank and file. Lake County leaders gave the nod to Judge Susan Hutchinson, a McHenry resident. Johnson reportedly is popular with precinct workers who thought a Lake County judge should be backed by the "home folks."

More than a few grassroots Republicans feel the party wound up egg spattered when endorsers backed Joyce O'Keefe to take on incumbent Democratic State Rep. Lauren-Beth Gash in a North Shore legislative district only to back out of the race. Two Republican women passed over by the screening committee, Deloris Axelrod and Edna Schade, are competing in the primary. Schade, by the way, originally withdrew in favor of O'Keefe, only to jump back in when O'Keefe bolted.

Confused? So is Party Lines.

Invited by Clint---The public is invited by Sheriff Clinton Grinnell to the opening of his campaign headquarters at 5 p.m. Monday, Jan. 10, at Country Fair Plaza, Rte. 45 and 120, Wildwood. There will be lots of introductions and refreshments. If you show up, be prepared to be regaled about Grinnell's program like his fight against youth gangs, new communicaton systems, revisions in the highway patrol system and help for senior citizens.

So long, Valery---Party Lines wishes to extend best wishes to Valery E. Gallagher, executive director of the Lake County Republican Federation, who left her post to enter private business. Gallagher's resignation became effective Dec. 31. Gallagher helped win recognition for the Lake County organization from the Republican National Committee. She was on the job three years and oversaw the transfer of Republican headquarters from Waukegan to Libertyville.

Verna Clayton (R-Buffalo Grove) left no stones unturned in putting together a blue ribbon team to insure her reelection. Here's a rundown on community coordinators for the Clayton campaign:

Village Trustee Marty Agran and Matthew Moodhe from Arlington Heights; Village President Ron Hamelberg, Bill Ames, Wendy Donnell and John Enggard from Barrington; Village President Sidney Mathias and Trustees Jeff Braiman, Bill Reid and Brian Rubin, former Trustee Jordon Shifrin and Chickie Egan, DeAnn Glover, Cathie Preusker and Dave Rubenstein from Buffalo Grove; Ela Township Trustee Jack Schneider and Ken Cabay from Deer Park; Village President Michael J. O'Malley and Village Trustee Bill McLeod from Hoffman Estates; Village Trustee Linda Fleming from Inverness; Village Trustee Bill Pailey and Paul Kochendorfer from Kildeer; Village President Deborah Vasels, former mayors Jim Kay and Henry Paulus and Ela Township Supervisor Robert Grever from Lake Zurich; Tish Moodhe, Dr. David Saidel and Frank Wolowic from Long Grove; Mary Sweet from North Barrington; Village Trustee Richard Cashman from Vernon Hills, and Sandra Harris and Mel Hoffman from Palatine Township.

These are all Republican heavy-hitters in the Legislative district that covers both sides of the Lake-Cook county line.

Too many prisoners

I am a middle class, tax paying citizen of this country. If you want tax reduction let's deal with the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU). We have too many prisoners in jail and we are paying for it. Look at the terrorist that blew up the World Trade Center. He is going to sit next to Gacy and Charles Manson. Let's get rid of these guys and save some money.

Driving him crazy

I have just moved to Antioch a year and 1/2 ago from the Northeast. I want to tell you all that you are the worst drivers of automobiles I have met in my life. You are the most unfriendly, biggest jerks I have ever met anywhere.

Philosophical question

What is meant when people say "In God we trust?" Just who or what is God?

Get to work

On my way to the store on Route 134, I saw a State of Illinois Department of Transportation truck. One man was working while the other two were sitting in the truck watching him. If we are going to pay them all the same, have them all do a days work. Otherwise, get rid of them.

Use the space

Hey Fox Lake, why not use the old Globe and Sears store to put in a Country Buffet. Round Lake is building up, why not get old Fox Lake going too?

Make 'em walk

It is noted with concern that Antioch High School is once again going to ask for 35 cents per $100 for the educational fund. It is my suggestion, and I have just read, that they spent $476,736 for transportation. There is no state law requiring transportation for all students. I suggest the school look into this and consider a user's fee for any student using transportation. I do not believe that transportation is a part of education.

Paved in gold

I would like to say that Grant Township has a surplus of money. Why else would they pave the roads on Dec. 20? Streets that did not need to be paved. Maybe someone in the township office would like to explain that. Sounds fishy to me.

Dry out

To the teenager who said there is nothing to do in Antioch but get wasted: you are already wasted. You have obviously been on the stuff too long.

Extra coats

I have several winter coats, both men's and women's to give away. Do you have any suggestions on where to drop them off?

Editorial note: Dear reader, you bet! Consider dropping your coats off to any one of the PADS shelters in the area. These folks would be happy to distribute your coats to the homeless. Another great idea is to bring the coats to a nursing home. Many people receiving social security just do not have enough to go around. We have been told that men's coats are particularly needed.

Complaining about complaining

I am complaining about the people of Cambridge Court complaining about the train whistles. We have lived here 10 years with the trains directly behind our bedroom. We have had no problems. If there is anything to complain about it is the basketballs. Not the whistles, we need them.

Not a winner

I am calling about the Antioch Holiday Window Contest. The local merchants took part in it. They came around and explained it to us in October. Well, the first place winner was not a decorated window. The winner, American Hair Lines who did not have a thing in their windows. They just had outside lights. I feel it was a window decorating contest, it should have been windows only. It should have been from Thanksgiving to Christmas with nothing allowed to be added or subtracted. The second first prize was removed. There were a lot of honorable mentions, including Strang Funeral Home. The biggest farce was an honorable mention to the Antioch Fire Department. They had nothing in the windows at all. Seems as though every chamber member got an honorable mention. You must improve this contest. What's fair and what isn't?

Unequal justice

I am a correctional officer living in Round Lake. I think it is a shame that the State's Attorney won't prosecute two inmates that assaulted two officers in the jail. One was assaulted with fists, and the other, a chair. I just wanted people to know that correction officers are not being supported.

Why not?

I would like to respond to the narrow-minded person who called Christmas a pagan holiday just because it wasn't exactly the day Jesus was born on. You are missing the whole point. Does it really matter when Jesus was born. The pagans were going to celebrate Dec. 25 anyway, so why not have them celebrate something important like peace on earth, goodwill to me. Maybe someday the true Christmas spirit will come to that person.

Why?

I am a first time caller, but I gotta ask. Why is anyone talking about pagans? Haven't they been gone for a very long time? Frankly, I do not care if Christmas was started by aliens from another planet. There is no secret plot by Satanists. Christmas is the time of year when people think more about each other than themselves. Why does anyone have a problem with that?

Seatbelts return

The reason there are no seatbelts on school buses is because students will use them as weapons. Kids today don't care about things. If there was a law requiring seat belts for elementary students, then high school students would get them too. How long do you think they would last?

Checks the weather

I am from Lake Villa and want to talk about the sirens and loudspeakers the mayors of Lake Villa and Lindenhurst want to put in. I am a person who takes responsibility for myself. I pay attention to weather reports and take the necessary precautions. I do not need big brother to watch out for me. How close to the mayor's house will these things be and how often will they be tested.

Insurance bind

Last year, a HMO doctor referred my daughter to a hospital for an x-ray. The insurance company gave us the first run-around about the payments. Then, we learned that some office in Waukegan was supposed to be doing the payouts. Then we get the run-around with them. Now, a collection agency is after us because some of the billing was not sent directly to us. Does anyone out there have any suggestions?

Fix your flag

My biggest gripe is that the drivers training building in Libertyville does not have an American flag. I talked to the manager several months ago about this and was told that the rope was broken. It sure would be a credit to the State of Illinois to fly the American flag everyday when they are open. What does it take to fix a rope?

Don't like it, move

Hey all you people from Round Lake, Round Lake Beach, Lake Villa, and Antioch. All you do is complain about your towns. Why don't you just get out of there. Try moving. It is so annoying to hear you complain.

Chip on his shoulder

I just couldn't resist calling about this cheap, trashy rag's Lipservice. And, point out that you need a proof reader to read your copy. Bi-weekly and bi-monthly are not the same thing. Think about it.

Editorial note: Dear Chip, thank you for that clarification. By the way, did you also know that yearly is different from quarterly. Think about that.

Lost some weight

In response to the custodian who lost his job just before the holidays, to have a job is a privilege in this country. It is not a God given nor a Constitutional right. Just as we teach our children that they must work to receive any privileges, you must work as hard or harder to maintain that privilege or it is taken away. I must, therefore, assume you were not doing your job or you would still be there. It is not fair to your co-workers or the hard working taxpayers of the community that they would have to support you if you were not doing your job. I say, thank you high school Scrooge for saving me some money by not keeping dead weight around.

Not ashamed

I live in the Countryland Subdivision and I am not ashamed to have a Waukegan address. Why would I be ashamed to be a part of a city that gives me Lake Michigan water, access to cable television, lower taxes, and a beautiful park? As for the lake, you are welcome to come and see it. It is a natural lake in its natural surroundings. The application for the Wadsworth postal address is a matter of geography only.

Sleep with the fishes?

As a life long resident of Lake Villa I am up at arms with Jim Semmerling. I cannot believe what is truly going on. Do we want Chicago style politics out here? Does he really want to sleep with the fishes? Thank you.

A joker

I am a resident of Lindenhurst and was a resident when Richard Jablonski was the chief of police here. The guy is no professional, he is a joker. Batman save us.

No job opening

I just read in the paper that the Village of Lake Villa just approved the hiring of a new police officer full time. I have been unemployed for nine months and I don't remember any job opening being posted.

Baxter director resigns

DEERFIELD—James R. Tobin has resigned from his post as president and chief operating officer of Baxter International Inc. and will no longer serve on the firm's board of directors. The announcement was made by Baxter's chairman and chief executive officer Vernon R. Loucks Jr. Also resigning from the board of directors is Wilbur H. Gantz, founder, president and chief executive officer of PathoGenesis Corp. He served as president of Baxter from 1987 to 1992.

Business workshop

LAKE COUNTY—Understanding and developing a cash flow statement will be the focus of a business seminar offered by the Center for Economic Development's Small Business Development Center (SBDC) at the College of Lake County Tuesday, Jan. 18. The "Cash Flow Workshop" will be held from 6:30 to 10 p.m. in Room C-003 on the Grayslake campus, 19351 W. Washington St. Joan M. Barry, CPA, of Checkers, Simon and Rosner, will lead the workshop, which is intended for small business owners. The cost is $40. The workshop is co-sponsored by the Small Business Administration and the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs. To register, call the SBDC at 223-3633.

Fansteel dividends

NORTH CHICAGO—Fansteel Inc. announced that its Board of Directors with unanimous written consent declared a cash dividend on the company's $2.50 par value common stock in the amount of 10 cents per share, payable Dec. 31, 1993 to stockholders of record as of the close of business on Dec. 23, 1993.

Cobra—a throwback to speedy muscle cars

by ALEC JUNGE
Lakeland Newspapers

For those who clamor for the mystique and power of an original muscle car the new JAC Cobra 427 is a replica of the '66 427 Cobra.

Lyons and Ryan of Antioch is presently the only dealer in Lake, Cook and McHenry Counties to sell these exclusive vehicles. The uniqueness of the product is it's a replica sold intact, ready to be driven, with emissions and can be titled easily, according to Ted Berg of Lyons and Ryan.

"If you buy a kit car you can expect to pay $50,000 to 60,000," Berg said. "If it's not EPA certified it's tough to get it titled. You can buy a kit for $35,000 but you have to build it yourself. You have to perform or pay for the labor and find a power plant," Berg said.

With the Cobra, a licensed dealer is selling the car, it has a 24,000 mile bumper to bumper warranty and the car comes completely intact. The cars are built by Excalibur, a leader in the restoration car market, and supplied with a high-output 302 V-8 Mustang engine.

"It's meticulously assembled. It's all hand built down to the molds on the fiberglass," Berg said.

The reproduction vehicle is similar to the original except it has five more inches of leg room, a narrower tunnel, adjustable leather bucket seats, a padded dash and enlarged doors.

The potential buyers for the car are road enthusiasts and classic car buffs, according to Berg.

"The high end users, the people interested in performance and classic car buffs these are some of the people who are Cobra fanatics. People will come from all over. We will have people coming in from as far as California," Berg said.

The power is supplied by the Ford 5.0 litre, 302 V-8 with a 225 horsepower engine. Excalibur mounts a fiberglass body on the top of a heavy gauge, square tube ladder-style frame and a custom tubular front coil exhaust.

Some of the original Cobra's are selling for as high as $250,000 or more depending on the condition. Most of them are being used for racing, according to Berg.

Excalibur will make only 160-180 Cobra's a year worldwide. Lyons and Ryan got the contract largely because of its reputation and the fact they sold the original models. Excalibur has been making restoration cars since 1964. Excalibur owners include Bill Cosby, Frank Sinatra, and Paul Harvey.

"It's bringing back the glamour the mystique. It's bringing the fun and excitement back into the automotive industry," Berg said.

A Cobra retails from $51,000 to $58,000 and up. Lyons and Ryan can add custom features such as power package and almost any color imaginable.

"When people see you riding down the street they look and stare—then you're gone," Berg said.

The new JAC Cobra 427 is a replica of the '66 427 Cobra.

Abbott adopts 420 for the holidays

More than 120 employees from Abbott Laboratories participated in the company's first holiday Give-A-Gift program with their co-workers and families. A total of 420 Lake County residents were adopted, including 75 families with 360 members, plus 62 senior citizens. Employees from Abbott Pharmaceutical Products Division's marketing research department are shown with gifts they purchased for a family of seven.

Wedding Expo offers new ideas, big prizes

by SUZIE REED
Lakeland Newspapers

Area brides can see the latest in wedding concepts at the 1994 Wedding Expo Jan. 9 at the Mundelein Holiday Inn, 2025 S. Rte. 83.

The event is presented by Lakeland Newspapers and Dancin Machine II and sponsored by Debbie's Floral Inc. of Mundelein.

Fifteen merchants from all over Lake County will host display booths beginning at noon. Future brides and grooms and their attendants can munch on hors d'oeuvres and sip champagne as they visit exhibits offering ideas on fashions, music, photography, catering, flowers and weight loss. Brides can drop their names into the raffle at each booth in the hope of winning something special for their wedding.

At 2 p.m. Eva's Bridal & Fashions of Buffalo Grove will present a formal fashion show co-sponsored by Debbie's Floral.

"This is the first time they've done a show in this area," said organizer Debbie Mullen.

Eva's has eight stores throughout the Chicagoland area.

A cake cutting ceremony will begin at 3 p.m., followed by garter toss-aways. A few dozen bouquets will follow suit.

Merchant raffles on the main stage include: a weight loss program from Body By Design, wedding champagne from Banquets by GaShow, a floral package from Debbie's, a bridal package from GJQ Photography, custom balloon arch from Balloon Works, wedding music from vocalist Kandiss Hill, weekend package at Mundelein Holiday Inn, a music package from Dancin Machine II, tuxedo package from Gingiss Formal Wear, one night at Congress Hotel from Lakeland Newspapers. Each participating business will offer a raffle prize and one lucky bride will receive a special grand prize.

The event has sparked a lot of interest. "We've had a lot of calls for tickets," said Mullen.

Tickets are $5 and available either at the door or in advance by calling 949-4454.

Abbott, Ameritech offer good investment potential

This week we'll take a look at two well known area companies that are both recommended buys for investors seeking growth and income. The first is healthcare's Abbott Laboratories, and the other is our local phone company Ameritech.

Investment Trends

by Noah A. Seidenberg
Investment representative

Abbott Labs

In a time when many companies in the health care field are seeing their stock get beaten down with the uncertainty surrounding Hilary Clinton's health reform plan, ABT is near their high for all of 1993. The majority of the reason for this is the very conservative price to earnings ratio of around 17. This is especially conservative for a health care company and one who is expected to grow their earnings at a 14 percent average annual pace.

Earnings are continuing to rise for ABT after earning $1.47 per share in 1992. Nineteen ninety three is seen at $1.69 while estimates have 1994 at $1.90. Wall street has certainly taken notice with institutions now owning 50 percent of the company's stock.

In addition to the hospital supply products that ABT is known for, mothers of infants certainly know them for Similac and Isomil, two of the leading infant formula products. They also sell over the counter products such as Selsun Blue, and Murine. ABT's pharmaceutical division is not a leader in any major category of drug therapy, but a new drug Hytrin is a blood pressure control drug that may help increase this.

Buy Abbott Labs based on its ability to hold its market niche as well as its 2.3 percent current dividend. The pharmaceutical production might just be icing on the cake.

Ameritech

The local phone company has just announced they will have a 2-1 split payable Jan. 24, 1994. In addition, they raised the quarterly dividend four percent to 96 cents a share. With the current market price of around $80 a share, this provides a yield of 4.7 percent.

Earnings are expected to grow steadily, if unspectacularly from 1992's $5.02 to 1993's expected $5.45 to 1994's $5.65.

The question mark surrounding Ameritech is what effect the competition on local access is going to have as they look towards long distance, and cable systems. This uncertainty has some wondering, but with strong management, diverse operations, including several in Europe, and rising earnings, Ameritech is a good stock to accumulate for total return.

Johnson will assume responsibility for leading strategic planning and business development activities including mergers and acquisitions for the entire Baxter Distribution organization.

Home affordability sparks record sales

"Low interest rates have helped to create a purchasing climate in which prospective home buyers have been able to afford twice as much home as they could 11 years ago," said Lyle Williamson, president/CEO of the Prudential Preferred Properties.

"According to a study reported by Prudential Economics, the August, 1993 Housing Affordability Index (HAI) rate of 133.1 means that a family earning the median family income has 33.1 percent more income than is needed to qualify for a loan to purchase the median priced home,"said Williamson. "This compared to the HAI level of 65 in 1981, when prospective home buyers could only afford two-thirds of the median priced home."

According to Williamson, the study also reported that the rising affordability index has resulted from falling mortgage rates and stable home prices.

"The affordability of homes today has driven 1993 real estate sales to a level expected to be among the top three highest annual productions on record," said Williamson. "Our sales volume at The Prudential Preferred Properties certainly reflects the facts presented by the Prudential Economics study."

Faculty initiates renaming of school to honor Finch

A ground swell of faculty and student support at the University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School resulted in the renaming of the university in honor of Herman M. Finch, effective Jan. 1.

The announcement of the Herman M. Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School marks the first time in academic history that a medical school has been renamed in honor of a chairman of board of trustees and CEO at the initiation of its faculty.

Finch, who will be 80 in July, serves as chairman of the board of trustees and CEO and has dedicated more than 45 years of service to the institution. The university has become a leader in American medical education as a direct result of Finch's leadership and vision.

His involvement with the institution dates back to 1948 when he became a member of the Chicago Medical School board of governors. In 1951 Finch was elected to the board of trustees and in 1966 was named chairman. When he assumed the chairmanship, the school had a reverse net worth of $3 million. Today, the university operates on a balanced budget and its net worth has grown to $81 million.

According to Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs Richard A. Hawkins, Ph.D., the idea to rename the University in Finch's honor quickly became a major movement among the faculty. "The renaming of this institution represents the gratitude of the board of trustees, faculty, alumni, students and administration to Herman Finch. His devotion to the university since 1948 has been an inspiration to everyone in our university community."

In 1965 the National Advisory Commission on Health Manpower, established by President Lyndon Johnson, concluded that the nation's health care system, especially the manner in which health services were delivered, was in a state of crisis. However, the blue-chip commission was not able to develop the needed recommendations to remedy this crisis. It only called for "voluntary acceptance of responsibility" and that the resources of various public and private organizations, including educational institutions, "be applied to reshape effectively the health care system."

In response to the commission's report, Finch pioneered the concept of a university of health sciences—a university devoted entirely to the health sciences and not subject to the priorities of a parent institution. Within this environment, the concept of a health team was established, in which the physician leads a team of highly qualified, allied health professionals and thereby is able to utilize his/her time more efficiently. Just two years later, Finch's vision was realized through the creation of the University of Health Sciences.

"Mr. Finch has been a pioneer of American medical education since 1948. His founding of the first university of health sciences in the U.S. inspired a number of medical schools around the country to adopt a similar structure, mainly adding graduate and related health programs to the medical school base," added Hawkins.

According to the board of trustees, administration, faculty, students and alumni, Finch has been the driving force behind the university's success. His monumental contributions have come through his ability to recruit high-caliber trustees, faculty and administrators and build teams, his vision for the university, his uncanny fund-raising skills, and his untiring dedication and commitment to serving others.

A native of Russia, Finch immigrated to the U.S. at the age of 6 and was raised in Omaha, Neb. After his education at the University of Nebraska at Omaha, he did postgraduate work at University of Chicago and Columbia University. He also attended the Hebrew Theological College in Chicago for three-and-a-half years. Finch founded his own industrial management consulting firm in 1943 and left the company in 1978 to devote his efforts full time to the university as its working board chairman.

Finch's motivation and philosophy, as stated by him at a board of trustees meeting: "The constant awareness that I arrived as a child to a land of freedom from a land without liberty and opportunity has evoked within me both ambition and humbleness. The ambition to strive for all that is possible in this land is tempered by humbleness and gratitude—thus the desire to give thanks in the form of service to others."

Based in North Chicago, The Herman M. Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School is a private, independent institution committed to educating men and women for professional careers in health care, teaching and research. In addition to its medical school, Finch University consists of the School of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies and the School of Related Health Sciences.

COURT ADVOCATES TO HELP TROUBLED CHILDREN

Learning about CASA
Diane Friese, middle, explains Court Appointed Special Advocates of Children training session. Monika O'Connor of Grayslake and Barb Mayerhofer, of Round Lake Beach, will be in training sessions in February.—Photo by Steve Peterson.

by STEVE PETERSON

An effort which began 20 years ago in Seattle is now in Lake County.

Some 50 individuals will begin three Saturdays of intensive training in February. The group will become the first volunteers of CASA - Court Appointed Special Advocates for Children.

"I work for the judge," said Diane Friese, organizer of the effort.

"Having a volunteer for every child in the court system is our objective," Friese told Grayslake Exchange Club members.

Friese learned details of how to set up a 5013 C program, and with the support of Lake County Board members Larry Leafblad of Highland Lake, Martha Marks of Deerfield, and club member Monika O'Connor, the group sought support from a judge. Lake County Associate Judge Margaret Mullen, who is in charge of the court system for juveniles in Lake County, gave her backing.

This was in February. Since, bylaws and governmental paperwork were taken care of and a 12-member board was formed.

"The most important thing was a judge wanted us. A CASA program can only go into a courtroom if a judge orders it," Friese said.

Each year in the United States, millions of children are abused, neglected or abandoned by families. More than 430,000 of them are removed from their homes and placed in foster care or institutions.

The juvenile court system can be for those until age 21. CASA acts as an intervening agency to provide a safe place for these youngsters.

"We have now been given four cases by the judge. We have four volunteers who have been trained in Cook County. Each one has been assigned a case. It is a real testing ground for the CASA program," Friese said.

When a CASA volunteer is appointed to a child's case, he or she is responsible for taking the time to find out as much as possible about the child. CASA volunteers review records, interview parents, talk to teachers and the child. Recommendations are given to the judge.

O'Connor said she became involved as a volunteer treasurer. "They have exceptional trainers," she said.

O'Connors goal is a child abuse prevention center in Lake County.

Barbara Mayerhofer, also an Exchange Club member, will be learning the CASA method in February.

For those who would like to volunteer, contact Friese at the CASA Waukegan office, 360-2929. Background checks are done for all volunteer candidates.

"When I get a case, I see when a court date is. Usually it is one to two hours a week," Friese said.

A letter is sent to the family saying a court order has been issued to interview them. "They do not have to do it if they do not want to. When they realize we are looking out for the best interest of their child and it is in their best interest to be reunited with that child, they are more than happy to give us permission," Friese said.

Volunteers come from all walks of life. Once accepted, they may learn about courtroom procedure, social service and the juvenile justice system and special needs of children that have been abused or neglected.

Illustrated Theatre to perform in Northbrook

On Jan. 22, the Northbrook Theatre welcomes The Illustrated Theatre Touring Co. This imaginative and exciting company is enjoying its 10th anniversary season with an all-new repertoire, featuring their own uniquely theatrical approach to storytelling. Many of their shows rely upon transformation theater, which requires very little in the way of props or scenery—the actors become everything from volcanoes to typewriters to heartbeats as the story unfolds on the big stage. Audience participation, team theatre, and a strong adherence to their educational mission are the hallmarks of every Illustrated Theatre performance.

This special appearance of The Illustrated Theatre Touring Co. is Saturday, Jan. 22. Performance time is 2 p.m. All seats are $5. For reservations call Debbie, at 291-2367.

Celebrate Chinese New Year

Help celebrate the Chinese New Year at the Kohl Children's Museum Thursday, Jan. 20 through Sunday, Jan. 23. This year, 4692 on the lunar calendar, is designated the Year of the Dog. Join in the fun of this early celebration with arts and crafts activities, stories and dances. Thursday, Jan. 20: Salute the Year of the Dog and make a dog puppet; Jan. 21, listen to and enjoy Chinese dragon stories; Jan. 22, make a good luck dragon; Jan. 23, take part in the finale of the New Year festival with a dragon dance around the museum.

The Kohl Children's Museum is located at 165 Green Bay Rd., Wilmette. Hours are Tuesday through Sunday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., closed Monday. Admission is $3, children under one year are free. Call 256-6056 for further information.

Touring company comes to Kohl museum

Watch children and their ideas take center stage in a special performance at the Kohl Children's Museum. The Wilmette Children's Theatre Touring Company will give two theatrical presentations at the Museum on Jan. 17 starting at 3 p.m.

The first piece, presented by the younger children of the Touring Company will be the dramatization of a popular children's story. Older performers will follow with a light-hearted portrayal of fairy tale princesses who gather to voice their complaints.

Those who enjoy children's performances and the theater are encouraged to join in the fun of this event.

Walt Disney on ice

Walt Disney's World on Ice featuring Aladdin will be staged in the Chicagoland area, Jan. 25 through 30 at the Rosemont Horizon and Feb. 1 through 13 at Chicago Stadium.

A magic carpet flies through a diamond-studded night and leaves viewers wondering: How does one simulate desert sandstorms and sunsets and create a giant genie who exploded onto the scene in a swirl of smoke? Transforming a bare ice arena floor into an opulent Arabian fantasy was a challenge that faced the creative team of Walt Disney's World on Ice—Aladdin.

Tickets prices are $10.50, $13.50 and $17.50. To order tickets contact the box office at Rosemont, 635-6600 or Chicago Stadium at (312) 733-5300. Tickets are also available through Ticket Master.—by RHONDA VINZANT

Into the night . . .

Palatine's newest nightspot, the Cabana Beach Club-Sports Bar & Grill, will make its debut on Thursday, Jan. 13 with a free performance by top Chicago reggae/calypso band, Mr. Myers. The tropical-themed Cabana Beach Club is located at 1550 N. Rand Rd. in the Prairie Brook Shopping Center, just one-half mile west of Route 53. The club's grand opening begins at 8 p.m. and goes until 1 a.m. The band Mr. Myers will perform from 9 p.m. until midnight. There is no cover charge on opening night.

The Cabana Beach Club's grand opening celebration will continue through the weekend. On Friday, Jan. 14, Roots Rock Society will play its funky brand of reggae ($4 cover). Mr. Meyers will return on Saturday night, Jan. 15 ($5 cover). Showtimes for both nights are 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

The warehouse-like storefront that was once home to Palatine rock Club Chances R, has been transformed into a tropical paradise, complete with real palm trees and floor to ceiling hand-painted art murals. Slice of Chicago owner Joe Barrutia decided to bring a little bit of the tropics to northern Palatine.

The Cabana Beach Club will be open seven days a week. In January only, it will be open at 3 p.m. Starting in February, Cabana will open for lunch 11 a.m. daily. The phone number is 776-9850.—by CLAUDIA M. LENART

Lecture series begins

The 1994 Zimmerman Lecture Series will celebrate garden design in America by bringing some of its finest practitioners to the Chicago Botanic Garden. The four-lecture series will feature a different speaker each month from January through April. The lectures will be held on Sunday afternoons at 2 p.m. in the Alsdorf Auditorium of the Garden's Education Center.

The first speaker in the series, beginning Sunday, Jan. 9, will be nationally-known garden designer, author and lecturer Patricia Thorpe.

Feb. 13, internationally-known California landscape architect Isabelle Greene will present "Landscape Designing in Context to the Land."

March 13, "A Midwest Plantsmen's Perspective in Design" will be presented by landscape designer and horticulturist Thomas Martin. He will focus on the use of bulbs as well as herbaceous and woody plants well-suited to the midwestern landscape and climate.

The series concludes April 10 with Edith Eddleman's "Perennial Pleasures" Combinations of Form, Texture and Color." Admission is $5 for members, $7 for non-members. Registration is can be made by calling 835-8261.

Reconstructed.

On January 21st, you'll see quite an improvement in your community newspaper. All the news you've come to rely on from a Lakeland Newspaper will be rebuilt and reorganized.

We think you'll be pleased to find all the news of your community in Section A. That's 16 pages of strictly local news. This is where you'll find news of your village government, township, school districts, library, and park district. You'll also be able to read about your neighbors in people news and about how the local sports teams are faring.

In Section B, you'll find compelling stories from across the county. You'll also be entertained and educated with Lakelife and Healthwatch. You can read varying viewpoints in the Editorial and Opinion pages, or catch some coffee shop chit chat in Lipservice. At-A-Glance will provide a quick view of headlines throughout Lake County. This is also where you'll find periodic special interest sections.

Finally, you can turn to Section C to catch the business beat of Lake County. Read about promotions, entrepreneurs, real estate and more. Section C is also the home to classifieds and regional sports.

These three sections are part of the complete renovation going on at Lakeland Newspapers. Once you see it, you'll know why it's big news.

See Europe by train

by JIM WARNKEN
President, North Star Travel, Inc.

Remember the "Orient Express?" It still makes its runs between Venice and Paris and is more magnificent than ever.

But this article is not about luxury trains. Instead, we'll discuss the thousands of trains used daily by the average European and by Americans seeking the real flavor of Europe.

The beauty of the Swiss Alps cannot be appreciated from the window of a 747 at 30,000 feet. While you may not be traveling at 500 mpg, you're quite likely to be zipping along at speeds in excess of 150 mph!

With the short distances between countries in Europe, you can leave Amsterdam at 7 a.m. and be in Paris by 1 p.m. Miss that train? You can catch the one at 8 a.m., or the one at 10, or any of eight others. There are over 500 trains a day leaving from Amsterdam alone. This is typical of most major cities in Europe.

Now for some specifics. Never buy a first-class ticket. There is very little difference between first and second class other than price. (Besides, the fun people ride in second class.)

If you're planning on staying 15 days or visiting more than one country, look into a Eurail pass. Price is about $460 for a 15-day pass, and $728 for a whole month. With it, you get free rail travel between 16 countries as well as passage on many buses, ferries and steamers. The pass must be purchased in the U.S. before your trip and is available from your travel agent.

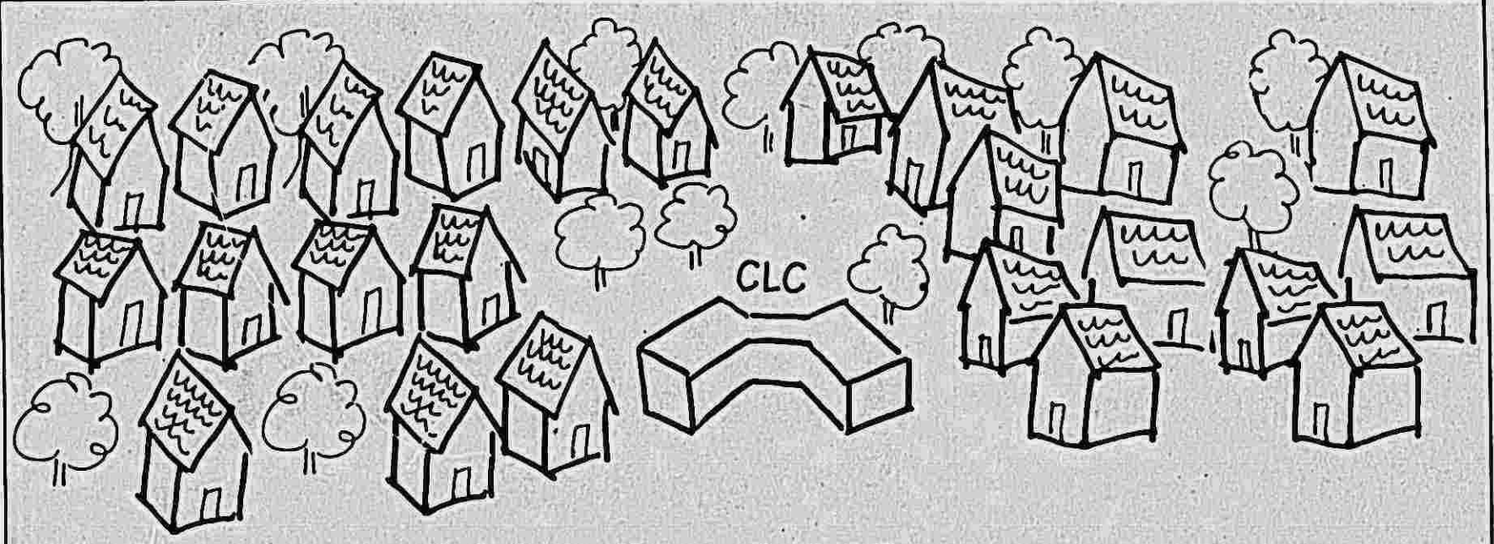

If it's only one country this time, look into passes issued by that country's rail system. I recently used a German rail pass which gave free rail travel in Germany, plus unlimited travel on city buses and passage on a Rhine cruise.

For cheap sleeping accommodations onboard your train, reserve a "couchette." They're sort of like bunkbeds. You'll find them quite comfortable, but with little privacy.

One last tip. Try one of the TEE, TGV or IC trains. These are the super-fast, long distance trains. Some will require a small surcharge, but the experience is worth it.

'The Rise and Fall of Little Voice'

Critic's Choice

"The Rise and Fall of Little Voice," an intriguing play by British playwright Jim Cartwright, is making its American premiere at Chicago's Steppenwolf Theatre.

To the world, Little Voice is a soft-spoken, withdrawn young woman, caught in a private world. But her true self comes out in a most amazing way as she artfully mimics the sounds and songs of famous cabaret singers, from Judy Garland and Edith Piaf to Gracie Fields and Marilyn Monroe.

Hynden Walch as Little Voice and Roni Reed as Mari Hoff in Steppenwolf Theatre Company's production of "The Rise and Fall of Little Voice."

Hynden Walch is full of surprises, including an amazing vocal range, as the girl with a battered psyche who has built her reclusive life around a stack of old records left by her late father.

Home is a run-down house in northern England shared by a floozy for a mother. Rondi Reed has distilled the role of a hard-drinking, man-chasing egocentric to its essence. She and her boyfriend (played by George Innes), the consummate opportunist, contrive to capitalize on the commercial potential of the fragile Little Voice's hidden talent, with predictable results.

The cast also includes superb performances by Ian Barford as the shy Billy who recognizes a kindred spirit in Little Voice, and Karen Vaccaro, as a simple-minded friend of the girl's mother.

Thomas Lynch's two-story set is a marvel, and the fire scene that highlights the second act is a special effect extravaganza.

"The Rise and Fall of Little Voice" runs through Jan. 30.—by Tom Witom

'Woody Guthrie's American Song'

Woody Guthrie (1912-1967) made his mark as an American folklorist, traveling across the country composing songs related to historical events in the 1930s and '40s such as the Oklahoma oil boom, the Dust Bowl and the Depression.

"Woody Guthrie's American Song," conceived and directed by Peter Glazer at Chicago's Briar Street Theatre, draws on the vast body of work by the late, widely acclaimed songster.

A company of five performers, accompanied by three banjo-strumming, guitar-playing on-stage musicians, resurrects such forceful works as "Bound for Glory," "This Land Is Your Land" and "Union Maid."

Christopher Walz, Brian Gunter and Kevin Gudahl call up the tears with their soul-stirring rendition of "Nine Hundred Miles." Susan Moniz and Ora Jones do the same with "Worried Man."

Through Guthrie's words, one discovers his philosophy of using the everyday words of the common people, from migrant laborers in every state of the union to nameless out-of-work drifters in the New York Bowery, to tell of their trials and their hopes. "No lemonade (popular) songs for me," he says. "Principles and ideals are seen plainer while singing. This is why singing is part of all of us, it puts action and the ways to action clearly before you."

Christopher Walz and Brian Gunter in "Woody Guthrie's American Song."

"Woody Guthries' American Song" is a thoughtful, inspiring slice of Americana. The production is in an open-ended run. For more information call (312)348-4000.—by Tom Witom

Ring In The New Year!

Maybe your new year should include a new friend. Or even a new romance. Personally Speaking can help you out.

Introducing PERSONALLY SPEAKING, a great new way to meet interesting people from the Lake County area.

Now from the convenience of your home you can meet that special someone or just a friend that has your same interests or hobbies. PERSONALLY SPEAKING provides you the security, privacy, and scrutiny you're looking for in personal ads. It's simple and takes hardly any time out of your busy schedule.

You're provided with a FREE personal ad for four weeks. You'll also receive use of a FREE 'voice mailbox' - a phone service that allows you to record and receive messages from any touch-tone phone.

HOW TO PLACE YOUR AD: Fill out the coupon and mail, fax or phone in the information. The first five lines are FREE; additional lines cost $5.

We'll assign you a 5-digit mailbox number (to be printed in your ad) and a 4-digit private security code for exclusive access to your responses.

HOW TO USE YOUR VOICE MAILBOX: After you receive your mailbox number and private security code, you can record your personal introduction. Your mailbox can be accessed 24 hours a day. You just need to follow some simple instructions.

Use your introduction to tell more about yourself than you did in your ad.

GUIDELINES: Give your first name; but, for your safety, DON'T give your last name, phone number or address. Ask your callers to leave their names, phone numbers and best time to call them. You can re-record your personal introduction whenever you want. All introductions are reviewed before being placed in the system and go on-line within 24 hours.

The only cost to you is for retrieving the messages that your ad attracts. If you don't get any responses, PERSONALLY SPEAKING costs you nothing.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A partner may be busy this week helping out a friend with a problem. You need to guard against quarrels about financial interests now. Charm is your ally in both business and personal dealings. Original ideas will bring you success.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Unresolved issues between you and a close tie could surface. Try not to argue. Seek amicable solutions. You'll meet with chances now to improve your income. Travel may be on the spur-of-the moment this weekend. Romance and recreational interests are highlighted.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Impatience and temperament could undermine efficiency this week and differences between you and a co-worker may arise. Financial backing for a project comes from an unexpected party. You'll want time now for yourself and family. Home life is favored over outside interests.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You could become upset about a child's choice of companions or other interests. It's a better week for visiting with others than entertaining company. Singles are likely to meet with romantic introductions. Partners are in synch now.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Guard against disputes about career concerns or with family members. A partner wants to think over a plan of yours. You'll impress those you contact now. Money prospects improve. A freelance opportunity looks promising. Local sightseeing is of interest this weekend.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A chance to make extra money arises but you may feel the pay offered could be better. Try not to quarrel with an irritating co-worker. Those who travel now meet with romance. Some will sign up for an unusual course of study.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Child rearing concerns take up part of your week. It will be difficult to reach agreements with others about financial matters. Try not to force issues. You'll be making beneficial changes at home this week. Surprise company may drop by.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) If you want to get along with close ties this week, you'll have to avoid cutting remarks and bossy behavior. You'll change your usual routine. Spontaneity is your keyword now. Partnership interests are highlighted.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Small details in connection with a work project loom as potential obstacles this week. Try not to lose your patience. Business will mix with pleasure. You'll be making some important business contacts now.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Important new ideas about a career project come to you this week. You may take up a new hobby. Romance may come unexpectedly. Some are busy now making plans for a pleasure trip. You're in an independent and fun-loving mood.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) This week's financial developments are positive. However, you may run into some snags with regard to either business or domestic interests now. Be patient. It's a good week to tend to a do-it-yourself project or to get some unfinished tasks out of the way.

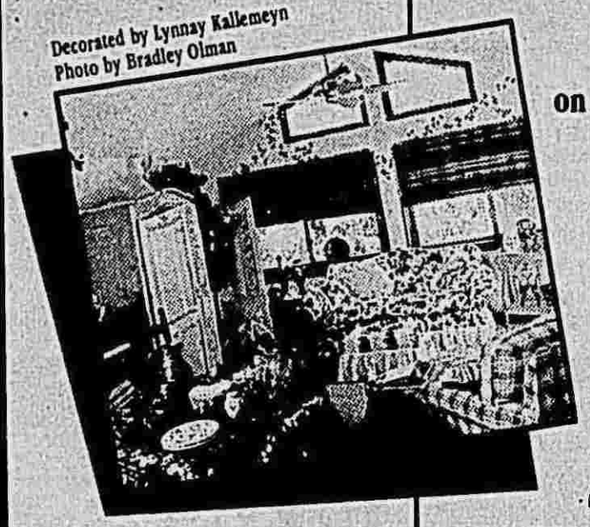

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A partner is your best confidante this week. Some you deal with now are either critical or argumentative. Pay attention to the rules of the road when driving. You'll be meeting some interesting people this week.

United Way of Lake County plans annual meeting, awards program

United Way of Lake County will install new officers and board members and review its 1993 accomplishments at its annual meeting, Jan. 20 at Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth.

The event begins at 5 p.m. with a dinner and cash bar. Recognition for the volunteers involved with the campaign will be held at the thank you celebration on Feb. 8.

United Way of Lake County President Jan Edgar said, "We are looking forward to the opportunity to welcome our new officers and board members and get 1994 off to a strong start. In addition, the outstanding volunteers in the community services area will be recognized. Throughout the year, they researched and prioritized needs in Lake County, made decisions about allocating funds raised in the campaign and participated in special community initiatives," she added.

"This program allows us to look back at our accomplishments for the year and to recognize the dedicated, enthusiastic volunteers who made it possible," explained Chairman of the Board Richard H. Morehead, Abbott Laboratories. "These volunteers have given their time, talent and energy throughout the year—sometimes for many years—and this is our opportunity to tham them.

A guest speaker who received services from A Safe Place, a United Way of Lake County agency, will give a brief testimonial about how the support she received from the agency helped turn her life around.

The cost of the dinner is $24 per person. For more information, or to make a reservation, call 816-0063.

Adler hires music director

The David Adler Cultural Center has hired Paul Tyler as its new program director for folk and ethnic music.

Tyler brings with him a lifetime of experience in traditional folk music and dancing.

Dianna Monie, Adler's executive director, says Tyler is a "real match" for what the center was looking for. "Paul is very solid and very interested and very talented," she adds.

Prior to coming to the Libertyville center, the 43-year-old Tyler had been curator of collections and exhibitions at the Old Town School of Folk Music in Chicago. But his commitment goes back much farther.

He was first immersed in the folk music tradition as a child growing up in a rural Indiana farming community where folk dancing was the standard fare at almost every social event. Since then, he learned to play the guitar, fiddle and mandolin, and has given workshops and lectures on folk music. He also produced a program on traditional music on an Indiana public radio station. The Chicago resident also has been an active folklorist since 1979, doing field research on the traditions and history of folk music and dance.

He calls his lure to folk music as a "passion." "It's not just an avocation, it's a vocation," he says.

As programming director for folk music at Adler, Tyler will be in charge of developing concerts and other activities at the center.

Several special events are planned. One, the "In the Tradition" series, is being made possible with a grant from the National Endowment from the Arts. It is a series of six concerts that feature musicians from the region and their cultures.

Tyler also will be responsible for Adler's ongoing programming, such as its monthly children's concert series, barn dances and "open stage" sessions.

Ten free trees for year round beauty

Ten free trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during January, 1994.

The free trees are part of the nonprofit Foundation's Trees for America campaign.

The 10 trees are the Sugar Maple, White Flowering Dogwood, Pin Oak, White Pine, Red Maple, Birch, American Redbud, Silver Maple, Red Oak and Colorado Blue Spruce.

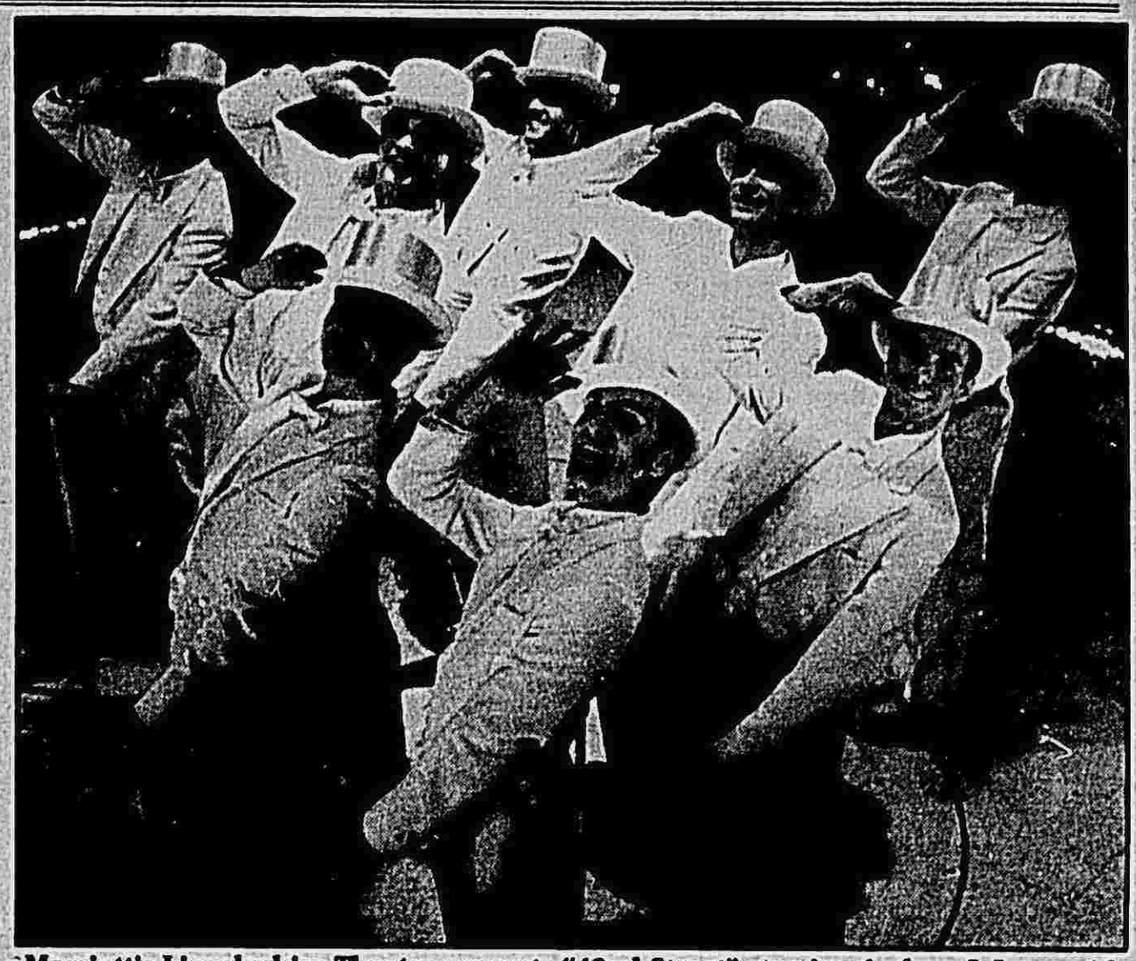

"These trees were selected to provide benefits every season of the year: Lovely spring flowers, cool summer shade, spectacular autumn colors, and winter berries and nesting sites for songbirds," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director, said.

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting between Feb. 1 and May 31 with enclosed planting instructions. The six- to 12-inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, send a $10 membership contribution to: 10 Free Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, Neb. 68410, by Jan. 31.

Pageant now accepting applications

The 1994 Miss North Shore Scholarship Pageant will be held Jan. 22 at Lake Forest High School. Women between the ages of 17 and 24 may qualify to be a contestant. This is a preliminary to the Miss Illinois/Miss America Program. The competition consists of interview, talent, swimsuit and evening gown. Interested women may call the executive director at 367-5381.

Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre presents "42nd Street" starring Andrew J. Lupp with Guy Adkins, Bill Szobody, Curt Dale Clark, Seth Swoboda, Marc Robin, James Zager, Rob Rahn.

Marriott alive on '42nd Street'

Marriott's Lincolnshire Theatre presents "42nd Street," the Tony Award-winning best musical that has become as much of a legend as the famous boulevard it celebrates.

Hailed as a "musical made in heaven," "42nd Street" follows Peggy Sawyer, a chorus girl from Allentown, Pa., who goes on to become an overnight star on the Great White Way. The tap-dancing extravaganza features a treasure chest of songs including "Lullaby of Broadway," We're in the Money," "About a Quarter to Nine," "Shuffle Off to Buffalo," and of course the show-stopping finale "42nd Street."

The show runs through Jan. 23 and performance times are: Wednesdays, 2 and 8 p.m.; Thursdays, 8 p.m.; Fridays, 8 p.m.; Saturdays, 5:30 and 9 p.m.; and Sundays, 2:30 and 7 p.m.

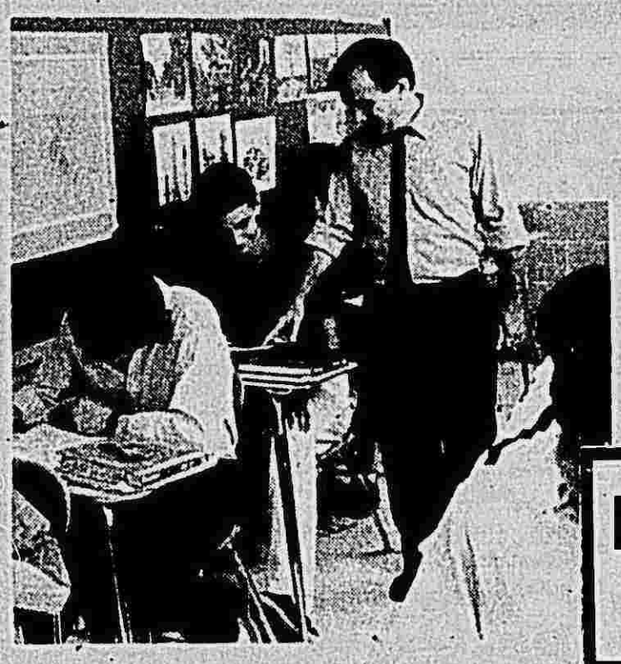

Ticket prices are $31 for all performances. Senior citizens and students receive $10 off the regular ticket price on Wednesday shows and Sunday 2:30 p.m. performances.

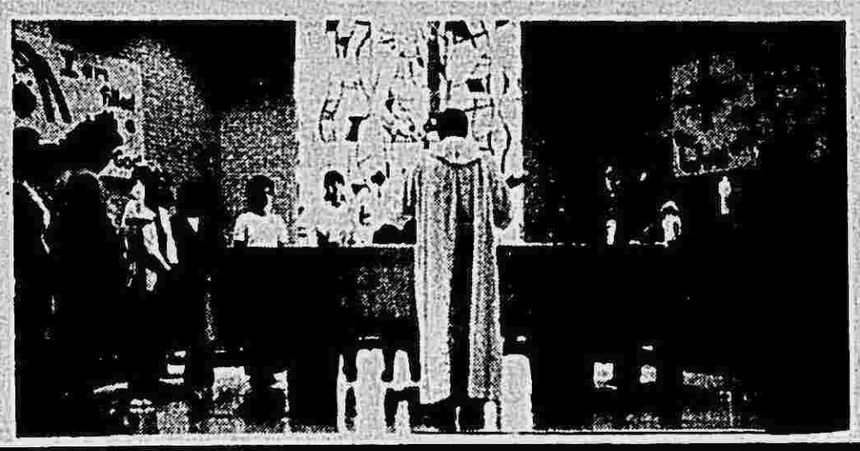

Dinner packages are available for all performances. On most Thursday evenings, a steak or fish dinner is free with the purchase of a full-price theatre ticket for that evening. Call 634-0200 for further details.

Hogans, Antioch's place for parties

Hogans Restaurant and Banquet facilities, located at the Antioch Golf Club is the place to be for your special event. Whether it's a wedding, conference, meeting, luncheon, shower, or golf outing, Hogans Restaurant has a party package for you.

Starting at $22.95 per person and up, Hogans has three beautiful rooms to choose from. But, the choices don't end there. Hogans offers a delightful dining experience with a variety of fine menu selections to suit anyone's taste. Specialties include a variety of unique pasta dishes found only at Hogans.

Packages are available for parties from 10 to 300 people. Hogans has a full catering service and can even do outdoor ceremonies. However, now is the time to start making your reservations. For more information on banquet facilities call 395-4800.

The Restaurant has an extensive menu that is reasonably priced for the whole family. On Friday night, don't miss the all-you-can-eat fish fry.

If beef is on your menu, Hogans has that steak for you. The filet is broiled to your liking, garnished with mushroom caps. The hole-in-one features a huge porterhouse steak for the hearty appetite. Don't miss the Steak Montgomery, which is a filet of beef sautéed with crab meat and asparagus, served with a light cream sauce.

Chef Jeff Roewer recommends his house specials which include peppercorn steak, sunset pasta, and peppered salmon. Although, the veal marsala, chicken vesuvio, and the barbecue ribs are also big hits.

On Sundays, the champagne brunch is out of this world. Served from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., this veritable feast is only $8.95 for adults and $4.95 for children under 10.

Hogans is open for dinner Fridays and Saturdays from 5 to 10 p.m. Conveniently located just south of the corner of Grass Lake Road and Route 59, Hogans Restaurant and Banquet Facilities is just delightful. Call 395-4803 for reservations or more information.

FEATURE OF THE WEEK

Salutos adds new Italian specialties

Salutos Pizza & Pasta, 7680 W. Grand Ave. in Gurnee, has come up with even more tempting menu items for 1994. The full-service restaurant also offers carry-out. Salutos East opened a few months ago at 2807 W. Grand Ave. in Waukegan and offers the same great tastes for carry out or delivery

New attractions that will be appearing soon on the list of appetizers include toasted chicken and spinach cannelloni, lightly breaded and deep fried. For those who are fans of Saluto's house specialty, an appetizer portion of rotolo is now available. This unique delight consists of a sheet of tender pasta rolled around spinach, ham and ricotta cheese with parmesan, then breaded and deep-fried.

The chef has come up with two new pasta sauces: cheesy Saluto Alfredo with roasted sweet pepper, and creamy garlic, a lively white sauce.

New entrees include healthy choices such as chicken and spinach ravioli, grilled chicken Alfredo served over fettuccine. Seafood lovers will enjoy shrimp Spiedini, featuring marinated shrimp and vegetables which are threaded on a skewer and then grilled. Two new lobster entrees are sure to be a hit. One offers lobster and shrimp with fettuccine Alfredo; the other combines lobster, shrimp and broccoli with creamy garlic sauce.

Pizza fans will love the three new topping selections. pollo primo has Alfredo chicken with broccoli and garlic. The meat lovers' pizza piles on sausage, pepperoni, ground beef and bacon. A BLT pizza is the familiar combination of bacon, lettuce and tomato in a great new style.

Everything at Salutos is made from scratch. The tender homemade pasta can't be beat for freshness and quality.

The Gurnee location offers catering and has a banquet facility for up to 50 people. For an easy Italian dinner that will feed up to 12 people, the Party Plan is the way to go. A feast of lasagna, Salutos famous salad, and rolls is priced at $32.95, which works out to a mere $2.75 per person.

The friendly, courteous staff at Salutos would like to thank their customers for their loyalty and are looking forward to another great year. Hours are 5 to 10 p.m. Monday (Salutos East closed), 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday, 11:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 1 to 9 p.m. Sunday. For orders or reservations call the Gurnee location at 356-6900. For carry-out orders or delivery from Waukegan call 623-7300.

Doctors warn residents to prepare for cold weather

"Preparing for winter's arrival means becoming familiar with the common maladies that affect people due to the cold. Recognizing when a problem is beginning is the first step in seeking treatment," warns Dr. Craig Dean, director of Condell Medical Center's Emergency Dept.

Dr. Dean says, "Frostbite is by far the most common cold weather emergency, especially for skiers, runners, joggers and walkers who continue to exercise outdoors."

Frostbite is damage to skin tissue as a result of overexposure to cold temperatures. In most cases it is a relatively harmless condition if cared for promptly. If neglected though, frostbite cases can have very serious consequences, such as the loss of the affected body part.

Isolated body parts, for example, the ears, fingers, nose and feet are the most common targets of frostbite. It begins with an exposure to prolonged or intense cold. Skin quickly turns red and inflamed before taking on a gray or mottled white appearance. The person will experience stinging and burning initially, then a pins-and-needles sensation. Finally, if left untreated, the affected part will become still and numb. Frostbitten body parts should be handled very gently. The severity of frostbite is divided into three grades:

First degree: Frostnip. Numbness and whitening of the skin with little likelihood of blistering if rewarmed promptly.

Second degree: Superficial frostbite. The outer skin feels hard and frozen but the tissue underneath will have normal resilience. Blistering is likely.

Third degree: Deep frostbite. The tissue will be white or blotchy and blue. It will be hard and very cold.

Here's what to do

If close to a hospital, go without delay or call an ambulance. Rewarm the area quickly, cover a nose or ear with a warm hand; place a frostbitten hand in the opposite armpit. If getting to a hospital is not possible, immerse a frostbitten extremity in warm water kept at a constant 100 to 105 degrees. Afterwards, protect against bruising or rubbing; keep the rewarmed limb warm and elevated until you can find medical attention.

Do not rewarm the area if there is any chance of it refreezing. Much more damage is done by refreezing. In wilderness situations, it is better to walk out with a frozen foot still in the boot than to attempt rewarming. If you have the option, do not use the frozen limb as pressure does increase tissue damage. Keep the body's core temperature up. Wrap the frozen area in a blanket or soft material to prevent bruising and keep the frozen area elevated if possible. Most frozen limbs can be saved with prompt quality care.

The following guidelines are things to avoid when treating frostbite:

- Don't rub snow on a frostbitten part.
- Don't massage or rub the area.
- Don't allow a thawed extremity to refreeze.
- Don't allow the patient to smoke or drink alcoholic beverages.

Prevention

Stay dry and out of the wind when in extreme cold and cover areas of exposed skin. Keep the body's core temperature up. Wear mittens rather than gloves. Don't drink alcohol or smoke when in extreme cold. Apply a good silicone lotion to areas exposed to the cold, i.e. face, neck.

Condell's Emergency Dept. is open 24 hours a day, every day, for emergency treatment. Call Public Relations at 362-2905, ext. 5275 for further information.

Cassidy pledges $100,000

George Cassidy, M.D., chairman of radiology at EHS Good Shepherd Hospital, Barrington, announced that Barrington Radiology and Imaging has pledged $100,000 to the hospital.

The donation, which will be disbursed over a five-year period, was announced at the 1993 Shepherds Ball held to recognize hospital donors.

"Barrington Radiology has been with the hospital since it opened and it has been a mutually advantageous relationship," said Dr. Cassidy who also serves as chairman of the hospital's Governing Council. "Through this donation, we wanted to demonstrate our appreciation and our commitment to the leadership of EHS Health Care, EHS Good Shepherd Hospital and its medical staff."

Beyond the Three R's: Helping to Motivate Your Child to Achieve in School

Join us for the Life Skills Series of lectures on issues facing people in today's world. These educational lectures are free, and so is the parking! Refreshments provided.

Wednesday, January 12, 1994 7-8 p.m.

Presented by:
Howard Atlas, Ed.D.

Many children are not performing up to their abilities in school. This can be frustrating for teachers, parents and students.

This presentation will focus on:

- characteristics of school underachievers,
- reasons for underachievement,
- practical suggestions for parents to improve their child's effort, motivation and success in school.

A model emphasizing close communication between home and school will be offered.

Dr. Atlas is Chairperson of the School Psychology Department of the Waukegan Public Schools and Director of the Center for Academic Success at Lake-Cook Psychologists and Counseling Associates.

Griefnotes

Do some people need special help dealing with grief?

Grieving people can experience numbness, anger, guilt, depression and anxiety. Over a period of time most people work through these feelings. But some, as many as 25 out of 100, have excessive difficulty dealing with their grief. They may be so depressed and confused that they can neglect important activities such as feeding children or going to work. The bereaved may cut themselves off from others, drink excessively or become very angry. Their grief may last much longer or be more intense than seems appropriate. People who experience excessive difficulties need extra support from friends and relatives. They may benefit from professional counseling. People who need such help should not be ashamed to seek it.

When you must... call: K.K. Hamsher Funeral Home Ltd.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: Being on a tight budget as I am, I have a limited business wardrobe. I was forced to wear the same suit to a first and second interview with the same company. Was that wrong? B.J.

A: Dear B.J. In fact, you were probably the only one who knew that. I will tell you, however, that even on a tight budget, ties and accessories can change the entire look of a suit or outfit. Because a business wardrobe can be costly, time should be taken when purchasing items. Study your wardrobe as it is now. Try to mix and match several pieces. You may be amazed at how different an outfit may look by changing a shirt or blouse and adding a different tie or scarf.

Q: Dear...Search: What is the appropriate way to end an interview? K.H.

A: Dear K.H. If in fact you are interested in the position you are interviewing for and the interview appears to be drawing to a close, let the interviewer know you are interested with a simple, "Thank you for taking the time to meet with me today. I hope to be hearing from you soon." This does work well. Don't forget to end with a firm hand shake.

Q: Dear...Search: Why is it so difficult for me to find a job? I dropped out of high school in my sophomore year. Could this be the reason? E.M.

A: Dear E.M. At this time, you do not have a complete education. Local high schools as well as community colleges and county offices offer what is called the G.E.D. Program or General Educational Development. This is a quick and affordable means with which you can obtain your certificate of completion. These classes are usually set up in the evenings and/or on weekends for convenience. Contact your local high school for further information. You'll be glad you did.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

Three centuries of antique treasures in Volo Antique Mall

A 70-year-old, black, Ford Model-T, fruit and vegetable seller's truck is parked next to the 150-year-old, rustic, four-story barn. Inside the barn and new, 200-foot addition are some 200,000 quality antique treasures representing three centuries.

This is the Volo Antique Mall marking its first anniversary. One hundred and fifty dealers offer a fascinating array of enticing wares dating from the 17th century to 1959, in diverse, unique and often surprising selections.

Antique jewelry, glassware, dolls, toys, tools, coins, clocks, watches, furniture, blankets, clothing, pictures, art deco, linens, lamps, figurines, arcade games, cash registers, juke boxes, slot machines and much more are presented in room settings and showcases.

The Volo Antique Mall offers adults and children an unhurried, entertaining adventure through time that is truly unique and free. There is everything and something for the seasoned antiquer, the amateur and the fun-seeker. Financial advisors agree that fine antiques can be considered a good investment, even for those on a budget, and may become cherished heirlooms.

The Volo Antique Mall is open everyday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Friday nights to 8 p.m. There is no admission fee for this all-weather adventure. For more Mall information, call Bill Grams, manager at (815)344-6062. There are acres of free parking just steps away. Delicious food is served at the Brooder House restaurant.

The Volo Antique Mall is one of the unique, entertainment attractions on this 22-acre, country complex. Here, too, is the Volo Auto Museum with 175 classic and antique cars in the seven million dollar collection housed in three buildings. The American Classics Gift Shop features "automobilia" items from the 1950's and 1960's, and fresh, homemade fudge. Admission to the museum is $3 for adults and $1.50 for children through age 12. For more museum information call (815) 385-3644 and for the gift shop call (815) 385-3772.

There is also a two-story vintage building with craft and gift shops, and a traditional country, home furnishings store.

This charming complex is in the heart of chain-of-lakes, antique country, just south of historic Volo Bog nature sanctuary, on Illinois Route 120, just a half-mile west of Illinois Route 12. It is 13 miles west of I-94 and 15 minutes from Great America. The mailing address is 27582 West Highway 120, Volo, Ill. 60073.

Four make New Year's entrance

Sometimes it's all right not to come in first.

Rebecca Ann Perry officially became Lake County's fourth baby born in 1994 when she entered the world on Saturday at 6:36 a.m. at Condell Hospital in Libertyville.

Rebecca Ann weighed in at six pounds, 10 ounces and is 20 inches long.

Her parents are Therese Braswell and David Perry of Antioch.

The first Lake County birth of the new year was Felicia Joy Nelson, born at 3:34 a.m. at Highland Park Hospital.

A baby born at 4:47 a.m. at St. Therese Medical Center in Waukegan was the runner-up, with third place going to a 4:51 a.m. birth at Victory Memorial Hospital, also in Waukegan.

Holding Rebecca Ann Perry is mother Therese Braswell. Sisters Samantha Perry, 5, Stephanie Perry, 2, and Dana Perry, 8, can't wait to help and neither can dad, David Perry.— Photo by Gene Gabry

United Way of Lake County surpasses goal

United Way of Lake County has surpassed its 1993 fund-raising goal and has received pledges totaling $6.85 million, announced General Campaign Chairman Daniel J. LaVista, Ph.D., College of Lake County.

"The $6.85 million gives us a 10.2 percent increase over monies raised last year. It represents the efforts of the entire Lake County community, and each of us should take great pride in this accomplishment," said LaVista. "I am really pleased with these results, because I know how much the additional monies are needed to offset the difficult campaign we experienced last year. It just proves that when people understand how urgent the needs are in Lake County and that their money goes to help one in three of their fellow residents, they are willing to do whatever they can to help, in spite of difficult economic times.

"Another part of our success is due to the extraordinary work done by our Campaign Cabinet and internal company volunteers," he said. "Many of our veteran volunteers returned this year to lend their expertise, knowing the campaign would again pose many challenges. Under the direction of our new Marketing Chairman, Terry Simmons of Abbott Laboratories, we also stepped up our marketing efforts and provided much more information about United Way of Lake County and how it benefits the giver as well as the whole community," he added.

United Way of Lake County President Elizabeth Jan Edgar added her comments: "We also owe our thanks to our member agencies. We had more requests for speakers and tours this year, and our agencies were most willing to accommodate all of these," she said.

Several companies were recognized for their accomplishments in their campaigns. Some of them are as follows: Abbott Laboratories' combined gift was $1.77 million, six percent above last year; Allstate Insurance Company's corporate and employee contributions totaled $157,867; Ameritech gave a combined contribution of $97,428; Baxter Healthcare Corporation's combined gift was $711,000 for Lake County; Trustmark Insurance Co. contributed a total of $110,996; Caremark's combined gift was $91,384; College of Lake County employees pledged $10,201, up 15 percent over 1992; the Combined Federal Campaign surpassed its goal and raised $1,100,000 a 54 percent increase over 1992; Commonwealth Edison employees contributed $133,758; Dean Witter Financial Services Groups gave $77,976; First Midwest Bank's corporate contribution was $17,000; Harris Bank Libertyville's combined total was up 40 percent over last year; Hewitt Associates increased its corporate gift 25 percent; Hollister gave a total of $50,510; Kemper's employee pledges totaled $81,000; Komatsu Dresser gave a combined contribution of $35,027, representing a 19 percent increase over last year; Medline Industries raised nearly $115,000, a 35 percent increase over 1992; The "New-Sun" made a combined contribution of $7,624; North Shore Gas collected combined pledges of $42,283; NOSCO, Inc. raised a combined total of $11,375, up 15 percent over last year; Olsen Oil also increased its combined contribution 25 percent over 1992; Rust-Oleum's combined gift was $71,389, an 81 percent increase; Six Flags Great America made a combined contribution of $20,911; Underwriters Laboratories matched employees pledges for total contributions of $69,570; WW Grainger gave a corporate gift of $22,000; and Westvaco increased its combined gift 30 percent.

Many other campaigns are still in progress; their achievements will be recognized at the Thank You Celebration Feb. 8, 1994, from 5 to 7 p.m. at Midlane Country Club. Campaign monies collected will fund 104 critical human service programs.

For more information about United Way of Lake County call 816-0063.

Carmel offers placement exam

A Placement Exam for the 1994 Freshmen class at Carmel High School will take place on Saturday, Jan. 8. All eighth graders who plan to attend Carmel next September should come to the school Jan. 8 to register and to take a series of ability and achievement tests. The test results, along with information received from the student's elementary school, will be used by Carmel to schedule the student for next year.

The testing will begin at Carmel at 8:15 a.m. on Saturday morning and will continue until about 12:30 p.m. No student can be admitted after 8:15 a.m., and no further testing date is planned for later in the year. If illness prevents any student from taking the placement test on Jan. 8, it is necessary that the school be called in order that a place be reserved for September. The school's number is 566-3000.

Each student must bring a $20 testing fee, and all students are also asked to bring a pen.

PET PARADE

Teen teaches life's lessons to dog trainer, friend

I'm sure you have heard the old saying "You can never teach an old dog new tricks." Well... that is not true. I'm not really that old, but I have learned some very important facts of life from a 17-year-old girl.

She is a student of Wauconda High School. She will volunteer her time for just about anyone. She trains her Shelties in obedience and agility and says she doesn't want to be a couch potato.

Christine Forwe has a neuromuscular disease called neurapathy. Neurapathy damages the nerves at a slow rate, and she is confined to a wheelchair. Although her condition has affected her speech and she uses a motorized wheelchair, Christine will meet day-to-day challenges without discouragement. Makes me wonder why I used to say "I can't."

Now, Christine has two Shelties, Emma and Tiffany. Christine's most prized possessions, these are not dogs, they are members of her family. They sleep with her, ride on her lap, talk to her, and she in turn trains them.

To watch the patience that this girl has when working with her dogs makes a person wonder what is wrong with the rest of the world. A simple thing such as picking up her leash is a challenge. She uses a grabber, which is a long rod with pinchers on the end. Since her speech is also affected, she has taught most of the commands her dogs know by hand signals.

This year she competed in the American Kennel Club obedience shows. She has received her first title, a "companion dog" (CD) on Emma, and is now working toward her "companion dog excellent" (CDX) with her. Emma and Christine have also received the title "CGC," canine good citizen. Tiffany is working at a steady pace towards her "CD."

To watch Christine work in an obedience ring along with all the other competitors can bring tears to your eyes. Her joy in working her dogs is not to be the best of all, but for the satisfaction of being the same as everyone else out there, to be treated no differently than anyone else.

She helps me at the training hall by passing out the homework sheets to my students, demonstrating some of the exercises, even helping the customers when they need help. A very important exercise taught to both my students and their dogs is in not noticing her wheelchair, but accepting it as part of her.

So come in some day to visit and see Christine work, or just come in to talk to her. You'll be amazed by what you can learn from her.

I love you as a sister, Christine.—by CATHIE SABIN, OWNER AND TRAINER, B.C. DOG TRAINING, GROOMING AND PET SUPPLY

Lake County Board of Health elects new officers for 1994

The Lake County Board of Health has elected the following officers for 1994: President—Martin Paulson, Vice President—John E. Schulien, D.D.S.; Secretary— Jean Veiga, R.N.; Member-At-Large—Tien C. Cheng, M.D., FACC, FACP.

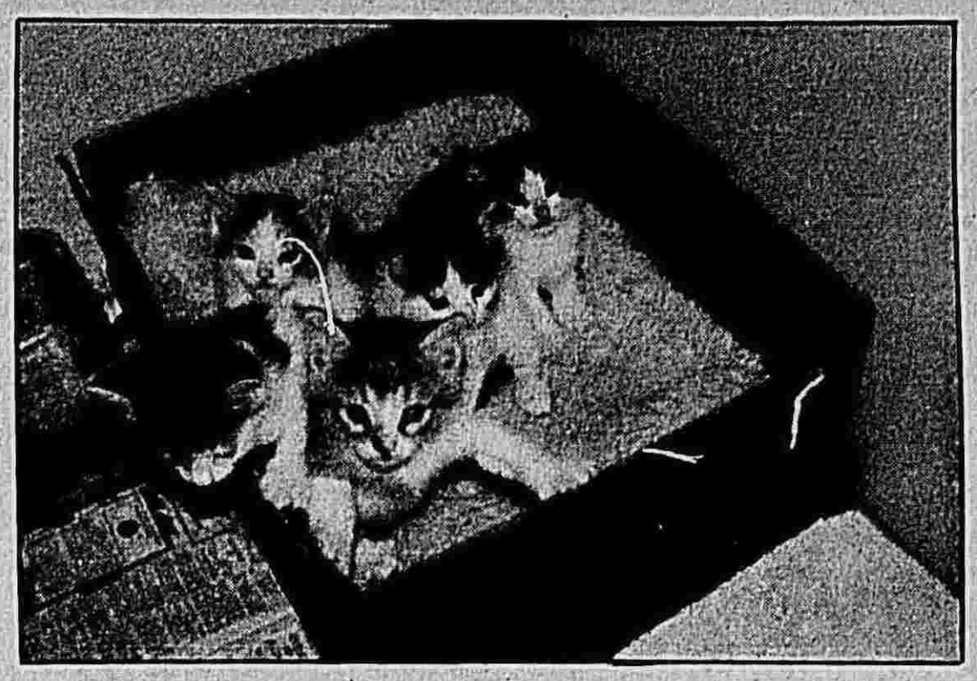

Paulson enters his third year as president of the Lake County Board of Health. A resident of Libertyville, he is the manager of the Parkway Restaurant in Waukegan, a position he has held since 1979. He was also responsible for the development of the Comfort Inn in Waukegan. Paulson received a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Notre Dame in 1979. He then continued his studies at DePaul University, carning an MBA degree in 1981. In addition to his work on the Board of Health, Paulson is a member of the North Chicago Chamber of Commerce and serves on the board of directors of the Consumers Cooperative Credit Union.

Schulien also serves on the County Board as a representative from Dist. 13 and is one of two County Board members on the Board of Health. He maintains a private dental practice in North Chicago, and has been a resident of Lake County since 1972, having moved to Libertyville after serving three years in the United States Army Dental Corps. In addition to his work with the County Board and the Board of Health, Dr. Schulien is active in a number of civic organizations, including the Easter Seal Society, for which he has served on both local and national levels, and the North Chicago Rotary Club, for which he is a past president.

Veiga has brought a wealth of knowledge and experience in nursing since her appointment to the Board of Health in 1992. During her career she has worked at Elmhurst Memorial Hospital, Hinsdale Sanitarium, Mt. Sinai Hospital (Chicago), and Michael Reese Hospital. In addition to her work in nursing, she also has been a member of the Lake County Medical Society Women's Auxiliary and has served as president of the Newport Civic Assn.

Dr. Cheng is Board certified in Cardiology and Internal Medicine. He is an active staff member at St. Therese and Victory Hospitals in Waukegan, and Condell Memorial Hospital in Libertyville. He comes to Lake County by way of Taiwan, having received his M.D. from Kaohsiung Medical College in 1967, and serving his internship and residency at the Veterans General Hospital, in Taipei, Taiwan. In addition to his ongoing work at the Lake County hospitals, Dr. Cheng is also most active in professional organizations relating both to medicine and to his native Taiwan. His medical organization affiliations include membership in the Lake County Medical Society, the American Heart Assn., and the American Medical Assn. He is a fellow in the American College of Physicians, the American College of Cardiology, and the Council of Cardiology of the American Heart Assn.

Pet of the Week

A carton full of love

These lovely kittens were victims of a "drive by." They were packed in a carton, driven to a remote location, and dropped off for someone to find. Luckily, they were rescued from the cold and are now ready for responsible and loving homes.

For information on how to adopt these kittens or any of the animals at the Assisi Shelter, call (815)455-9411.

New law will prevent bad weather accidents

Many motorists aren't aware of a new law that requires drivers to turn their headlights on whenever bad weather forces them to use their windshield wipers, according to Sen. Dick Klemm (R-McHenry County).

"In rainy weather, like we've been having far too much of lately, it's often hard to see oncoming cars if they don't have their lights on. This law is directed at making the roads safer and preventing accidents," Klemm said. "With all the rain this summer, I've noticed a lot of motorists on the road declining to use their headlights. They should be aware that after Jan. 1, it will be the law."

The law requires the use of headlights when rain, snow, fog, or other conditions require the use of windshield wipers. Most states require headlights when visibility is restricted. Florida, Georgia, Rhode Island and Tennessee require headlights in rain or inclement weather.

Under current law, headlights must be used from a half hour after sunset to a half hour before sunrise, and other times when people and vehicles on the highway aren't clearly seen at a distance of 1,000 feet.

"There may be some concerns about government placing another rule on drivers, but this is like the seat belt law-it's an effective tool that is worth the trouble if it saves lives," Klemm added.

County hopes voters back juvenile justice

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

In two months, Lake County law enforcement officials hope to put a dent in a problem more than a decade in the making.

Voters will be asked March 15 whether or not to increase the county's tax limit from 2.9 to 8.7 percent, although that number will be finalized Jan. 13. The purpose, due to state election law, will not be on the ballot, but will be to construct and to staff an $8.8 million improvement plan for the county's juvenile justice system.

"The need to expand the juvenile detention facilities in this county is very real. The needs go beyond brick and mortar. We need to keep pace with the increased caseload in juvenile court; with the ever so troublesome and violent crimes by juveniles in this county. We need to deal with the youth of this county in this county," Mike Waller, state's attorney said.

Lake County Board Chairman Robert Depke announces plans for a new juvenile correctional facility. Lake County voters will be asked to approve a tax rate increase on the March 15 ballot. Looking on are: Lake County Board member Robert Buhai and George Bridges, police chief of Waukegan.

Coordinating the efforts to get the message to the voters will be Fred Foreman of Gurnee. Foreman said there will be a "concentrated effort" between now and March. The committees are being formed.

County board committee approval was expected Tuesday and the full county board anticipated a Thursday vote. Chairman Robert Depke said he has the 12 votes needed for passage.

Cost of the bond issue would be an increase of 5.8 percent hike in the tax cap. The cost per $150,000 house would be $12 annually.

If the resolution for an increase in the tax is passed, construction could begin in 1996.

Foreman said the juvenile justice system was considered for improvement when the Robert A. Babcox Justice Center was being planned.

A new 36-bed detention facility would replace the present 18-bed facility in Waukegan. The comprehensive program would include what officials term a "refined version of SMART - Structured Military and Residential Treatment Program for youth 16 to 19. Some 22 beds would be available for SMART participants. The "boot camp" system employs exercise, education, treatment and public service.

Waller said the new facility will serve the county until the year 2010.

"What is at stake here is quality of life and the public safety of Lake County. I believe, and the citizens of Lake County believe, that the children of Lake County are worth the investment," Waller said.

Some 47 additional staffers are anticipated.

Lake County Chief Judge John Goshgarian said police officers are frustrated by the lack of space at Hulse House. That facility was built in 1956 and remodeled in 1978.

He pointed out the state's juvenile court system has been characterized as being "in a crisis."

"In Lake County, with 600,000 residents, we have a detention facility with 18 beds," Goshgarian said.

In 1978, society was far less violent.

"Today we deal with gangs, guns and drugs," the judge said.

"There has been no additional space allotted to the county's juvenile justice system since. We have been sending kids all of the country and at great expense. We can keep the kids here in our own system a whole lot cheaper. It is time to bring them home.

"We must be at the forefront to repair a system now overwhelmed by increasing caseloads. It is important for us to act now to implement planned improvements to the Lake County juvenile justice system," Depke said.

Lake County Sheriff Clinton Grinnell, Regional Superintendent of Schools Edward Gonwa and Lake County Board members Robert Buhai and Audrey Nixon, whose finance and judicial committees considered the tax increase Tuesday, supported the measure.

By-partisan political support came from Republican chairman Robert Churchill (R-62) and Terry Link, Democratic party chairman.

"We will need some resources. We're not magical. Finding the perpetrators is sometimes not half as hard as what we do with them after they are caught," John Ward said. Ward, chief of Gurnee police, is head of the Lake County Police Chiefs Association.

Grayslake car wash rapist pleads guilty

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Donald Sams pleaded guilty to three of 11 counts against him for the kidnapping, attempted murder and rape of a 26-year-old female car wash customer on Oct. 15. Sams, a former resident of Wildwood, was an employee of the Shell gas station on the corner of Routes 120 and 45 in Grayslake when the attack occurred.

According to police, Sams shut the car wash machine off while a female customer was inside. Sams then entered the car wash and forced his way into the woman's car. The victim was raped, repeatedly stabbed, and left for dead in the trunk of the car. Sams then parked her car in a lot near the car wash and went back to work. After he left her, the victim was able to escape by forcing her way through the truck to the back seat.

The guilty plea came as a surprise to Grayslake's interim police chief Conrad Gutraj.

"I went to the State's Attorney's office to review the case," said Gutraj. "When I got there I found out that the defendant was already before the judge pleading guilty to three of the 11 charges."

Sams, who appeared before Judge Raymond McKoski in Lake County is eligible to receive a maximum of 120 years in prison. He pleaded guilty to one count each of attempted first-degree murder, aggravated criminal sexual assault, and aggravated kidnapping. The guilty pleas were not a result of a plea bargain.

"There was an offer made and rejected," said the attorney for the prosecution, Randie Bruno. "There have been no negotiations."

On Monday, Sams was once again in front of the judge on the remaining eight charges. He is to return to court on Wednesday. At this time, no decision has been made concerning the balance of the charges against him.

McKoski has ordered a pre-sentence investigation and the sentencing hearing is scheduled for Feb. 1.

Pace holds public meetings for 1994 ADA plan update

Pace, the suburban transportation service, has scheduled eight meetings throughout the six-county service region to update the public on fares and its Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) plan. The public is invited to attend the meetings and give their input.

The Lake County meeting will be held on Thursday, Jan. 13 at 1:30 p.m. at the Waukegan Public Library auditorium, 128 N. County St., Waukegan.

For more information call Pace's Passenger Services Office at 364-7223. Passengers who require special accommodations to attend the meetings, other than transportation, such as interpreters or documents in large print, can contact Jonathan Andes, Pace's staff attorney, at 364-2464 or Pace's TDD line at 364-5093.

Retired teachers set January luncheon

The Retired Teachers Assn. of Lake County will hold its January meeting on Jan. 11 at noon at Meadows 21 restaurant, 1760 Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville. A pre-luncheon social will begin at 11:30 a.m.

The program will feature Bill Swanson, who will speak about his experiences as an NFL Super Bowl official. His reminiscences will include interesting anecdotes of this and other football games. Swanson has served as Libertyville Township assessor and has been involved in numerous civic activities.

All Lake County retired teachers and their friends are invited to attend. Special recognition will be given to Lake Bluff retired teachers. Reservations are not required.

Meeting

The Northeast Lake County Mobile Home Owners meeting will be held Jan. 9 at 2 p.m. at the Waukegan Public Library, 128 N. County. For further information contact Elsie Koch at 249-2182.

Sports

Yes, Virginia, even Patriot girls find improving a key

GIRLS HOOPS

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

This may come to a shock to area teams who have been blown out by 30 or 40 points from the mighty Stevenson Patriots.

Stevenson, ranked third in the state, has had areas of improvement in racing to a 16-0 record.

"Our intensity has improved. Our rebounding has improved. Our outside shooting has improved. Our overall defensive intensity has improved. We are much better now," Coach Frank Mattucci said.

Stevenson had a near-loss experience when it rallied from a 13-point deficit to edge Evanston 44-43. The Pats played an almost flawless game in a 72-45 win over York before edging Mother McCauley 60-57 to claim the title at Dundee-Crown.

"The Evanston game showed us we can be beat," Danielle Mall, Stevenson senior, said.

Mall, Tauja and Tamika Catchings were named to the all-tourney team.

The coach said he was calm for the Evanston game, but returned to his vocal self for York.

"Three things we stressed at the shootaround. One is to always stay focused; two is we are not invincible and play together and you can climb that mountain. I thought we bounced back well. Evanston was a defeat we turned into a victory because of our desire," Mattucci said.

Mall was involved in a key play against York. She kicked the ball out to fellow senior Ellen Davis, who popped home a baseline jumper for a 20-point halftime lead.

"You can never count on offense, but you can always count on defense," Mattucci said.

The coach was pleased with his team's defense against the tough Mighty Macs, at least for the first half.

"I felt if we scored 60 or more they could not beat us. We kind of played that close to the vest. I did not think it would be easy. I am disappointed with 57 points. I thought we could hold them to 50 or under," Mattucci said.

"We do not want to not throw the ball away as much as we were down the stretch. All season long we have been finishing teams out. Tonight was the first time we did not finish them out. But I will excuse them because they are 16-0," Mattucci said.

Rebeccah Ford and Christy Miller are key reserves for the Pats. Ford hit four free throws. "Miller did not play a lot because of back spasms. But she had valuable minutes. We needed a ball-handler. I put her in there because she is a terrific free-throw shooter. I was hoping they would foul her. Ford had a big rebound at the end," the coach said.

Tamika Catchings, who scored 18 points against York, is THE freshman as far as the Pats are concerned. "She is the real thing. You have not seen anything yet from Tamika," Mattucci said.

"Her sister, Tauja, is an unbelievably important player on this team. Overall, she is our most valued player when you combine rebounding, defense, offense, ball handling and overall willingness to win," Mattucci said.

Katie Coleman, a 5-foot, 10-inch guard-forward, is another player to watch from the talented sophomore group.

"Katie Coleman took huge strides in her game. Katie puts a lot of extra pressure on herself. She does not understand sometimes just because you do not score a lot of points in a game does not mean you are not having a good game. She distributes the ball. Play good defense, block out.

"There were two cases tonight when I did not call a time-out. She came over to tell me something or ask me something and I said, "Kate, what do you think. I went with her (opinion) and it worked out," Mattucci said.

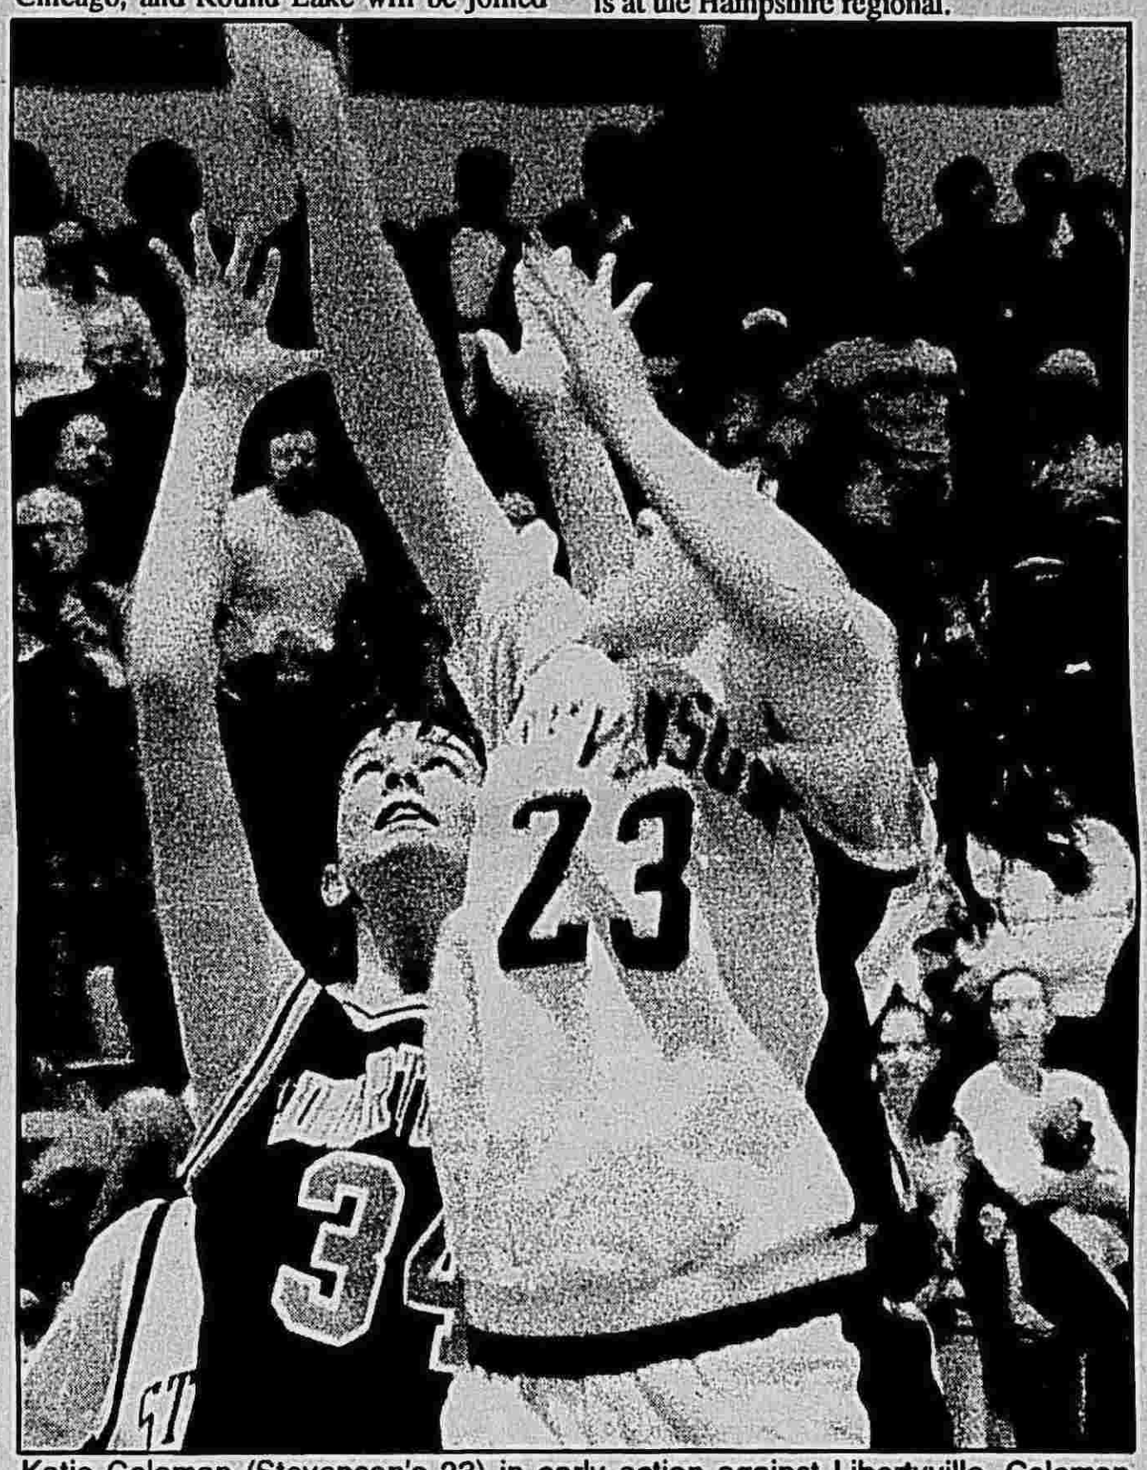

The Pats, before the game, spelled out their team theme," Go the distance" on their jerseys to be shown off before the national anthem. Alas, the folks in Carpentersville did not play the anthem.

There could be one thing of note in expected North Suburban Conference workouts against Antioch and Lake Forest this week. Will Mattucci have his mustache? The team tried to convince him the clean look is in following the D-C crown.

Mattucci credits assistant Tom Kelly with suggesting Tamika Catchings defend Ann McDoland on the last play. Catchings (team-high 17 points) blocked a three-point attempt.

Post season assignments: the vast majority of Class AA girls teams in the area will be pointing to the Highland Park sectional final. Antioch, Grant, Grayslake, Warren, Lake Zurich, Libertyville, Stevenson, Carmel, Mundelein, North Chicago, and Round Lake will be joined by Waukegan and Zion-Benton. Regionals begin in just five weeks, Feb. 14. Johnsburg is at the Crystal Lake Central sectional.

In Class A, Richmond-Burton, the best one-loss team that no one knows about, hosts its own regional. Harvard, Alden-Hebron, Lake Forest (Woodlands Academy), North Boone, and Marian Central will also be at Richmond. Wauconda is at the Hampshire regional.

Calm Castellucci sets sights on return trip to state meet

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Mundelein's Alfonso Castellucci continues on his season-long roll. His winning streak at 171 pounds reached 18 as the Mundelein High senior won the Carmel Invitational title.

"He wrestled pretty much the whole tournament pretty strong. He wrestled a smart one, intelligently and had some real nice shots," Mundelein coach Dennis Szymkowiak said.

Castellucci faced Harvard's Jose Saucedo in the finals and won handily, 12-1. He had won by a technical fall over Carmel's Chris Smith in the first round of the Carmel Invitational.

Castellucci is hoping to accomplish what he gained his sophomore year when he qualified for state. He has been rated second in the Chicago area as Mundelein now focuses on North Suburban Conference matches, beginning Jan. 7 at home against Warren.

Castellucci was shaken up in the third period of the win against Harvard.

"We pretty much have the conference left. You have to be ready," Szymkowiak said.

The Mundelein mentor was pleased with his team's third-place showing. The Mustangs garnered 79 points. Harvard won the meet going away with 196 points. Highland Park won the battle for second with 99.5. Mundelein beat out Weber for third. Carmel was a close fifth with 67, Grayslake had 58 and Deerfield 54.6.

"I was really pleased, said Szymkowiak. "We had two seconds (Casey Duval and Doug Dean) and a third (Glenn Dean)."

"Records do not mean anything. All I care about is winning the state tournament this year. I am definitely one of the tough contenders," Castellucci said.

Steadiness has been an important factor for the Mundelein grappler.

"Last year, I had a lot of problems with being nervous. I attributed that to warming up too long and psyching myself up too much. I would tire myself out before I got there. This year, I take it easy before the match, stretch out a little bit, and then I would do my business out there," Castellucci said.

"I'm finishing my takedowns a lot better. I don't worry about pins anymore. I am trying to beat my school record for technicals. I have 11 and the record is 18," he said.

Carmel Coach Joe Scordino has a young team this year with only two seniors in the lineup. He can point to a series of third- and fourth-places in the middle weights.

Jim Kanichirayil, a senior, finished third at 119 with an 8-4 win over Andy Opie of Harvard. Ryan Duncan, a junior, earned a third place with a fall in 4:26 over Jim Hood of Lake Forest. Brian Rohleder, a senior at 135, won third with a 12-6 win over Doug Operzedek of Deerfield.

Matt Sztelle earned a second-place at 140.

"We're a young team and we are learning the moves. We are hoping to improve," Scordino said.

Carmel, 1-8 in duals, stays at home this weekend. Carmel battles St. Viator and Marist at 5:15 p.m. Jan. 7 and Bollingbrook and Deerfield at 10 a.m. Jan. 8.

Injuries to guards may force new Carmel lineup

Carmel High's boys basketball team may have a different look as the East Suburban Catholic Conference season resumes at St. Patrick Jan. 7.

Guard Brian Buckingham, a six-foot one-inch junior, injured an ankle at the Kankakee tourney. Senior Brian Savage is also out with torn knee cartilage.

The good news from the injury front is Dan Graham, a senior, is expected to be back as his leg injury is healing.

"If we go with a smaller lineup, we may want to go with Rick Koseor, if we want to go bigger, we may go with Stasick or Pettis Kent," Carmel Coach Ben Berg said.

The 4-9 Corsairs head into the second half of the 1993-94 season coming off an impressive 72-49 win over Rantoul.

Stasick improved his points-per-game numbers to a team-leading 13 with a 24-point outing to lead Carmel in its lone tourney win.

"Stasick allows us a lot of flexibility. He can play four positions," Berg said.

The Corsairs finished 1-3 at Kankakee as Stasick led the outside gunnery with a perfect 4-for-4 from three-point range. He had four rebounds, four steals and six assists.

Lanndon Rose was Carmel's inside threat. Rose had 17 points. Tom Drennan had 15 for Carmel.

"The kids understood we played some pretty good competition," Berg said.

Carmel led early with a 19-12 bulge after one. Rantoul, without its star player, cut the lead to 2 in the second before a 9-2 Carmel run closed out the half.

"They played a zone and that opened things up," Berg said.

Berg said the guards are managing the basketball well.

"We can't make mistakes. Our defense has been good. Anytime you hold anyone to under 50 points, you have done a good job," Berg said.

Carmel finished off Rantoul in the second half, with an 18-13 third quarter and a 19-10 fourth.

As for the ESCC contest coming up, Berg said St. Pat's always plays tough at home in Chicago. Carmel hosts non-conference Crystal Lake Central at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 8.

"They (CLC) used to run Loyola-Marymount offense, but they have a new coach (Jim Condill)," Berg said of CLC. CLC was seventh at the Jacobs tourney.

Carmel girls fall

Despite what Coach Larry Whittier called "the best effort of the season" Carmel's girls basketball team dropped a 44-38 decision to Glenbrook North.

Carmel finished 1-3 at the St. Viator tourney.

The Corsairs were led by Erin Potempa with 13 points; 11 coming in the first half. Carmel led 21-20 and the Corsairs' biggest margin was 3 points.

Amy Kocsis, a sophomore, had nine rebounds. Anne Zielinksi had seven rebounds and created seven turnovers. Jamie McGill created five turnovers.

Glenbrook North won the game by scoring 8 of its last 11 points on free throws.

Carmel dropped to 2-6 after the loss to Glenbrook North. Carmel finished the tournament with a 51-41 loss to Argo.

Carmel hosts Marillac Jan. 10 at 7 p.m.

Scouting Report

Mundelein at Warren

Date: Jan. 7
Place: Warren Township High School, Gurnee.
Time: 7:30 p.m.
Records: Warren (8-5 overall, 3-1 in North Suburban Conference); Mundelein 12-1, 5-0 in NSC.
Key players: Warren's Jeff Woods; Mundelein's Kyle Kessel.
Keys to game: the tempo. Warren is led by 18 points a game by Woods, but Joe Bongratz and Dan Ulvila, forwards, have been inching closer to double digit scoring. Kessel leads a starting five which can score double digits each by halftime.
Prediction: Mundelein by five.

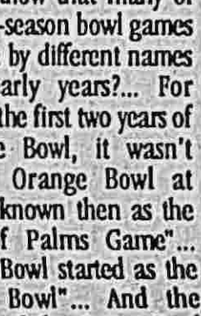

Round Lake at Grayslake

Date: Jan. 7
Place: Grayslake High
Time: 7 p.m.
Records: Grayslake 8-4, 5-0 Northwest Suburban; Round Lake 6-6, 2-3.
Key players: Grayslake junior Dave Mandralla, senior Geoff Sponholtz; Round Lake center Bob Swanson and fellow senior Chris Knauf.
Keys to game: Grayslake beat everyone in Northwest Suburban Conference handily. These two are coming off of different trecks from Christmas tourneys. Grayslake was 0-3 at Normal, Round Lake 3-1 at Jacobs. How Grayslake handles Round Lake's trap will be a key.
Prediction: Grayslake by six.

Stevenson at North Chicago

Date: Jan. 7
Place: North Chicago High
Game time: 7:30 p.m.
Team records: North Chicago 3-11 (with six forfeit losses), 1-4 NSC; Stevenson 6-6, 1-3 NSC.
Keys players: North Chicago's Willie St. George, Joe Walls Jr.; Stevenson's group of juniors led by Eli Howayeck's outside shooting and Tyler Hawkins and Pete Ferguson.
Keys to game: North Chicago had its fastsbreak at peak form in a win over the Pats at Wheeling. Stevenson must shutdown St. George, who scored 21 points against them. Pats, without Kenyon Catchings, throw a bevy of hungry juniors at foes.
Prediction: North Chicago by three.

Ever wonder who "invented" the post-season football bowl games?...A Pasadena, Calif., businessman, James Wagner, is credited with the original idea...To promote Pasadena's Tournament of Roses affair in 1902, he got the thought of staging a post-season football game... And so, all of today's bowl games stem from Wagner's idea.

Did you know that many of today's post-season bowl games were known by different names in their early years?... For instance in the first two years of the Orange Bowl, it wasn't called the Orange Bowl at all...It was known then as the "Festival of Palms Game"... The Gator Bowl started as the "Alligator Bowl"... And the forerunner of the Cotton Bowl was called the "Dixie Classic".

What was the strangest thing that ever happened in a big-time football game?... Many experts vote for an incident that happened in the 1954 Cotton Bowl game... You might remember this one... Dick Moegle of Rice was running down the field for a touchdown... But a substitute on the Alabama bench jumped off the bench, ran on to the field and tackled Moegle as he went by!... Officials gave Moegle a touchdown, crediting him with a 95 yard run even though he ran only 53.

Antioch girls find the stride with two wins at Rockford

Antioch girls basketball team earned a split in four games at the Rockford Christmas Classic.

The Sequoits improved to 5-9 overall with wins over Rockford Christian and Burlington Central, claiming the consolation title.

The team downed Aurora Christian 39-32, then triumphed 57-48 over Burlington Central.

Malene Gooch had 17 points, Amy Leiber, 16, and Mandy Jacobsen, 10, as three Sequoits hit double digits against BC.

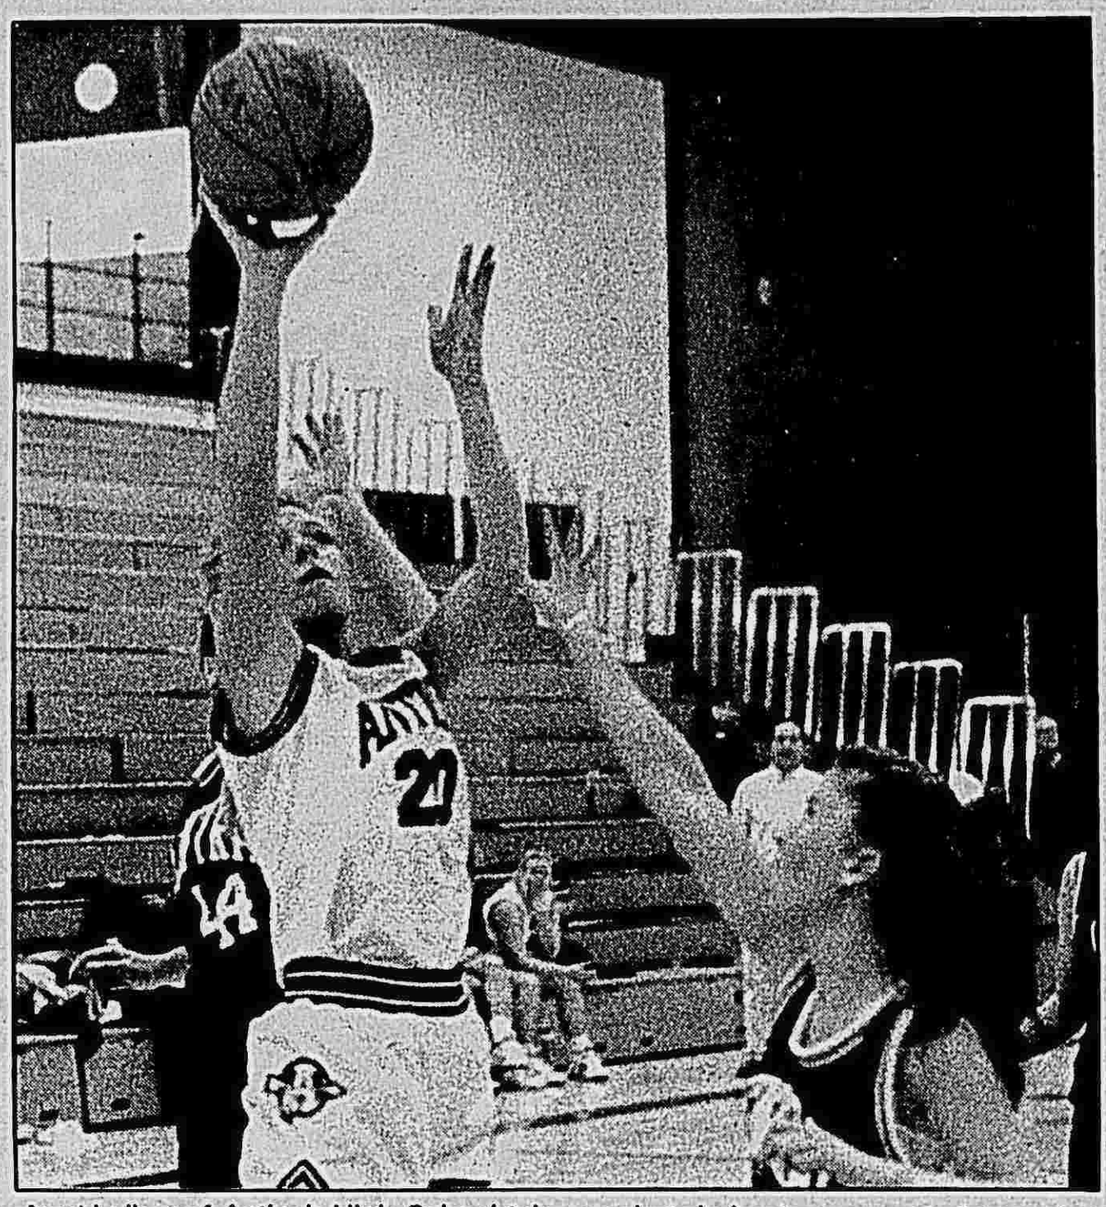

"The first two games, we did not shoot well. We had a consistent game. We had a couple of people step up and score," Antioch Coach Dave Woods said.

Woods said the Sequoits pressured their opponents well in the wins and rebounded well.

Antioch assistant Coach Paul Petty guided the team to the wins, as Woods was watching his son Jeff lead Warren's boys team to a 3-1 finish at Pontiac.

"He did a real good job. He has real knowledge of basketball and thinks a lot like me, especially on the defensive side. We need someone like that if we are going to build a program," Woods said.

Antioch fell to Stillman Valley and Rockford Boylan, 47-20 in a game Woods described as "ugly", and 61-36 to Stillman Valley. Rachel Hauser was the bright spot with 10 points against Stillman Valley. The Sequoits battled Stevenson, ranked in the top three in the state, Tuesday. "What a game to come back to. It will

Enigma shuts out opponent, Blitz defeated in a close one

At Soccer Enterprises-Highland Park the Lindenhurst Enigma (U-19) added one more to the win column and continued their undefeated season by beating Deerfield 5-0.

Angel Giangiorgi and Sarah Ayre shared the shut-out in goal. The Enigma scoring was led by Kelly Landgren with two goals, one goal each was scored by Colene Hardy, Heidi Landshoff, and Tanya Wiewel. Enigma assists were awarded to Kelly Landgren with two and Jaimee Porter, Colene Hardy and Krista Wiewel with one each. Other standouts were Kristen Smith at midfield and Jaimee Rinehart at defense. The Enigma is 6-0-1 with two games left to play.

The Lindenhurst Blitz (U-15) ended their indoor season with a 5-4 loss to the NSA Lightning.

After a calm first half of soccer with the Blitz only score coming from Carrie Gofron on a penalty kick after the NSA goalkeeper tackled her in the goal box, the Blitz trailed 3-1 at the half. But the second half saw some very exciting soccer with the Blitz pushing up the tempo of the game. Stacie Morley put in an early goal to make the score 3-2. With the score 4-2 (the Lightning leading), Becca Bleyer and Carrie Gofron each scored a goal (they also assisted each other) in a two minute stretch to tie the game at 4-4. But the Lightning pushed one more in with less than four minutes left and although the Blitz pressed hard, the ball didn't find the net. Other standout players were Jill Denoma, Tami Wright, Tammy Podborny and Nicki Kral. The Blitz finished in fourth place in the U-16 'A' Division at Poplar Creek Sports Centre.

The Lindenhurst Power (U-13) were idle again this week, but returned to action against the Trevians on Jan. 7 at Soccer Enterprises-Highland Park.

Cheerleaders finish sixth place

The 1993-94 Antioch Varsity Cheerleader Squad finished sixth at the International Open Cheerleading Championships, the highest a squad from Antioch has ever placed.

The competition, held in Nashville, Tenn., from Dec. 27 through Dec. 30, pitted 11 members of the 12-member Antioch squad against 61 other squads, according to Jamie Ryan, who is a member of the squad and a junior at Antioch Community High School.

While it was the second time Antioch had been represented at the competition's international level, this is the first time an Antioch squad has ever placed, Ryan stated.

Defense propels Grant over Sequoits, 60-49

by B. KILLACKEY
Lakeland Newspapers

A strong double-digit showing by four Grant players and strong defensive play propelled the Bulldogs to a 60-49 victory over the Antioch Sequoits Tuesday.

Kurt Filiatreault led the Bulldogs with 20 points. Teammates Dave Stone and Dan Dunlavy added to the effort with 10 points each.

"This game meant a lot for us," Filiatreault said, adding it was a confidence boost to beat a team in the North Suburban conference.

The 6-5 senior forward said the strong rivalry added sugar to the victory.

Grant Head Coach Tom Maple said Filiatreault scored one point above his average and was not dismayed when the offensive battle became tough.

Grant (9-5) led throughout the game, but at several times Antioch surged and threatened to close the gap. The Sequiots (4-9) closed the score to 39-40 with just over two minutes left in the third quarter.

Grant Head Coach Tom Maple said his team withstood that surge and found a way to score two or three baskets and hold the lead.

After that one point gap in the third quarter, Grant pushed ahead and took a decisive lead that lasted until the final buzzer.

Maple told his team before the game it would become a physical match.

"We knew (Antioch) had gone through some wars and would be physical," Maple said. "We can be physical too."

The officials let the play remain rough and only Antioch's Sean Noland fouled out in the last minute of play. However, many other players from both teams were in foul trouble near the end of play.

"Since the tournament, we learned how to play hard," Maple said. "We're playing well now and that's all that matters."

Antioch Head Coach Jeff Dresser said his team was "outplayed at times."

Dresser said poor free-throw shooting was a damaging factor. The Sequoits were 4-14 from the charity stripe. The Bulldogs were 19-23.

Junior guard Adam Becker led the Sequoit's efforts with 11 points, including two three-pointers. Center Sean Noland and Forward Dan Newcomb scored nine points each.

Dresser complemented Grant's defensive play and ability to set picks.

Grant will face Marian Central Saturday. Maple said Marian Central is filled with "superscorers" capable of shooting 60 percent from the field.

"We will have to deny and challenge a little more," Maple said.

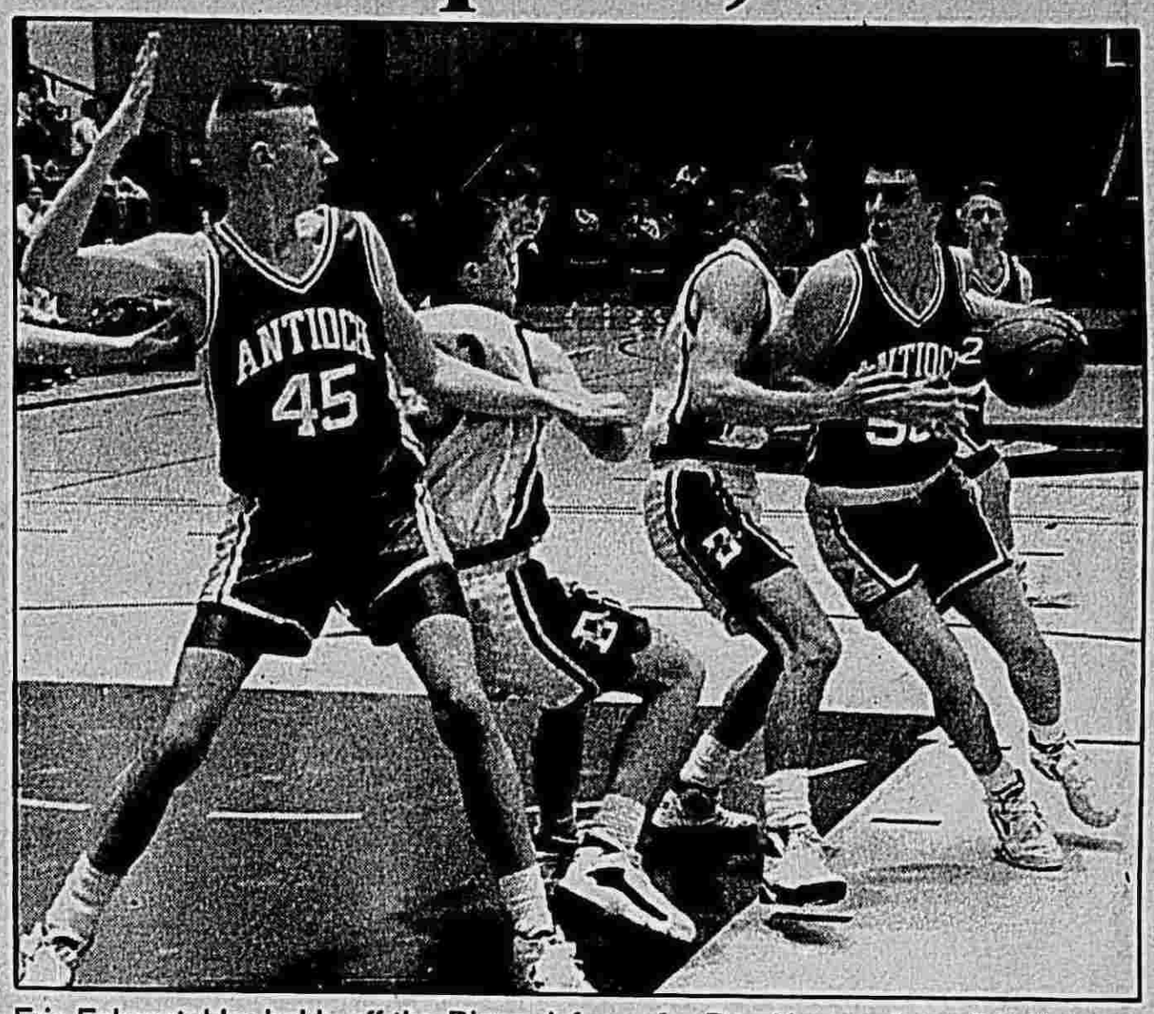

Maple also said his team would have to work a little more on zone technique.

Antioch will play at Lake Forest on Friday and at Stevenson on Saturday.

Dresser is preparing the team for the strong inside play of Lake Forest.

The weekend games for the Sequoits will mark over a dozen road games in a row, according to Dresser.

"We're holding up okay," Dresser said. "But it would be pretty nice to be at home."

Bowlers seeking consistency

Antioch High's girls bowling team would like to improve its average score by about 100 pins in the second half of the season.

"We bowled most of the first half of the year away and it is considered a big advantage to bowl at your own lanes," Antioch Coach Elliott Hoffeditz said.

Antioch squared off with Warren for the second time in a battle of state-ranked teams Tuesday.

"I will know a lot more after the meet," Hoffeditz said that morning.

Lisa Anderson is a senior and has the best series, 641 in a win over Fremd.

"She has the most consistent form. That is what the majority of bowling is about. If you are consistent, the scores tend to take care of themselves," Hoffeditz said.

Anderson is one of four seniors on the squad which has won all meets except Warren.

Nikki Hallwas has a 179 average; an improving Sue Stahl, 166; Jenni Yanrnall, 157 and junior Jeannie Olsen, 169. "She is very consistent for a junior," Hoffeditz said.

Antioch faces Libertyville away Jan. 10 followed by a Jan. 11 match against Grayslake, which is a change from the original schedule.

Antioch faces Fenton Jan. 14 and then returns to Bensenville for the 24-team Fenton Invite the next day.

"All of those teams have state experience," Hoffeditz said.

Comeback sparks ACHS bowlers

A dramatic rally by Antioch High's girls bowling team allowed the Sequoits to knock off fellow state-ranked Warren Tuesday.

The Sequoits won 2,599 to 2,589.

"I believe Warren was No. 2 in the state. We accomplished a goal to beat them. We were down 97 pins after the first two games and made up 107 pins," Antioch Coach Elliott Hoffeditz said.

Lisa Anderson led the home team with a 593 series and a high game of 222 at Antioch Lanes.

Heidi Balmes led Warren with A 543 series. Arlene Hildalgo had a 222 for Warren.

Jeanine Olsen had a 556, Sue Stahl 513 and Nikki Hallwas 508.

Jenni Yarnall and Sara Stewart had a 429 in the last position.

Danielle Novak had a 521, Angela Hanna a 502 and Tiffany Corbeil a 499 for Warren.

Antioch is at Libertyville Jan. 10 and hosts Grayslake Jan. 11.

Warren is at Stevenson Jan. 12.

Questions, answers to understand current tax laws

To help taxpayers better understand how current tax law affects their 1993 tax liability, the Illinois CPA Society provides answers to questions taxpayers have been asking.

Q. My husband and I have a joint taxable income of $150,000. Are we subject to a retroactive tax increase as a result of the new tax law?

A. Yes. A new 36 percent tax rate—up from 31 percent—applies to taxable incomes in excess of $140,000 for married couples filing jointly. Similarly, the 36 percent rate applies to taxable incomes in excess of $115,000 for single individuals, in excess of $127,500 for heads of household, and in excess of $70,000 for married individuals filing separate returns.

Q. What is the highest tax rate for 1993?

A. As a result of a new 10 percent surtax imposed on taxable income over $250,000 for singles, heads of household, and married individuals filing jointly ($125,000 for married individuals filing separate returns), the top individual tax rate has been raised to 39.6 percent.

Q. What if I can't pay all my taxes by April 15?

A You'll get a break from the IRS, provided that the retroactive tax increase is the reason you can't meet your tax liability. In this case, you have the option to pay your taxes in three equal, interest-free installments, beginning on or before the due date (without extensions) of your 1993 tax return, with subsequent payments made on an annual basis over the next two years.

However, if you're not subject to the new, higher tax rates and can't meet your tax liability by April 15, you will owe interest on any tax not paid by the regular date of your return. You may also be subject to a late payment penalty.

Q. We lost $20,000 this year on the sale of our home as a result of the poor real estate market. I know that gains can be deferred by buying another house of equal value within two years of the date of sale, but is there any way to write off the loss?

A No. When you suffer a loss on the sale of your principal residence, the IRS doesn't give you any tax relief.

Q. During the last six months, my mother has lived with my husband and me, and we have paid for her food, clothing and other expenses. Can we claim her as a dependent on our tax return?

A. You may claim her as a dependent if you meet the following criteria: (1) you provided over 50 percent of your mother's support for the year; (2) your mother's gross income was less than $2,350; (3) your mother does not file a joint return; and (4) your mother is a U.S. citizen, national, resident, or a resident of Canada or Mexico.

However, be aware that dependency exemptions are phased out for high income taxpayers. For joint filers, the phase-out begins when your adjusted gross income reaches $162,700. The threshold for single filers is $108,450; for heads of household, $135,600; and for married individuals filing separately; $81,350.

We don't send your home loan papers to some far-away headquarters for approval. We don't need to.

We don't have 800 numbers for you to request information from some stranger halfway across the country. We don't need those either, because we live here.

Basically, what we have and what we offer you is - ourselves.
Hometown people who are skilled professionals in personal and family money management. Neighbors dedicated to giving you everything you want and deserve from your financial resource.

We have the services, too.
We've specialized in affordable home loans right from the start, along with risk-free savings plans. Today we offer many checking, savings, investment, and lending options to meet your growing, changing needs. Along with the professional expertise to help you keep moving ahead financially.

But we never forget what you want just as much - personal attention. A friendly voice on the line. A big smile across the counter. A warm handshake before you sit down at the desk.

Stop in soon and get acquainted. You'll find we don't just promise Banking with a Hometown Touch. We give it. Because we live it!

Receive1993 tax returns faster—file electronically

People claiming refunds, as well as those who owe money, can have their 1993 federal income tax returns filed electronically.

Offered, usually for a fee, by many professional tax preparers as well as some banks and employers, electronic filing involves using a computer and a telephone modem to send returns directly to the IRS. This service is available to people who do their own returns as well as those who have them professionally prepared.

Electronic filing can save time, trouble, and worry by speeding up refunds and cutting down errors. A refund is issued withing three weeks after the IRS receives the return.

People can get their money even faster by choosing to have their refunds deposited directly into their bank accounts. Since direct deposit eliminates the possibility of a lost or stolen check, it may be particularly attractive to people who travel a lot, move soon after filing, live in high-crime areas, or for whatever reason, have difficulty getting their mail.

The IRS electronically verifies receipt of electronically-filed returns within two days. So there's no reason to worry about the return possibly getting lost in the mail. Mistakes often delay refunds, but according to the IRS, electronic filing reduces errors by an average of more than 80 percent. More than 12 million federal income tax returns were filed electronically during the past year.
